OPEN OIL BRIBE INQUIRY TUESDAY Army Flier Escapes Death As Plane Turns Over

TOP WINGS SMASHED IN MISHAP HERE

Lieut. J. G. Leavitt, 478th Pursuit Squadron, Army Air Corps Reserve, narrowly escaped death this morning when his airplane turned over in a landing at the Eddie Martin airport.

The plane flipped over on its back when a brake locked as Lieutenant Leavitt was taxiing in to a landing after a flight from the army base at Long Beach.

Leavitt said that he had landed the plane and was taxiing down the airport runway and had just applied his brake to slow the speedy ship. The brake on the left wheel locked throwing the machine over on its wings with the wheels in the air.

Lieutenant Leavitt was held in the front cockpit of the ship by his safety belt. He was flying alone at the time of the crash.

Late today arrangements were being made to pull the ship back on its wheels and haul it into the air base for major overhauling.

In the crash the top wings of the biplane were smashed and the rudder badly damaged. Motor damage will not be known until the ship is taken to its home hangar.

Another ship from the army air base, accompanying Lieutenant Leavitt on the trip, landed at the airport and stood by to take the officer back to Long Beach.

Leavitt said that he had left Long Beach a short time before the crash for a practice flight. He had planned to make a landing at the Eddie Martin airport and return to Long Beach.

VALLEY BEETS TO COME HERE

Sugar beets raised in the Imperial valley will be processed next season at the Holly Sugar company plant in Santa Ana.

This was revealed today coinciding with the announcement that the Los Alamitos Sugar company, of Long Beach, former operators of the sugar factory in Los Alamitos, Orange county, is contracting for 6000 acres of land in the Imperial valley.

According to Bruno Jaskiewicz, representative of the corporation, the ultimate plan is to establish a $2,000,000 sugar factory in the new area to be opened.

Officials of the Holly Sugar corporation, operators of the factory here, said today that beets produced in the Imperial Valley for the Los Alamitos organization will be processed here for the first year at least. After that depends upon future arrangements.

The Los Alamitos group closed the factory there several years ago and, since that time, the Holly Sugar corporation has been cutting and processing beets grown in this area for the company. The finished product, however, is sold under the Los Alamitos brand.

According to plans for planting beets in Imperial valley, Jaskiewicz said, next season's crop will be planted in September to be harvested in March, April and May during the interim between the Imperial Valley cantaloupe and lettuce seasons.

THIRD BEACH OIL MEASURE IS PASSED BY LEGISLATURE

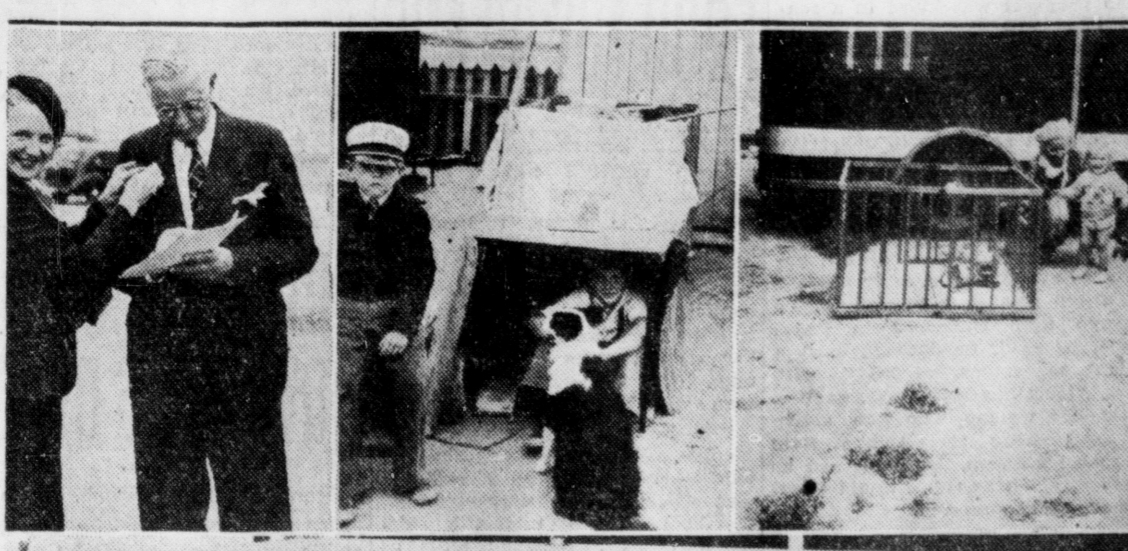

The third tideland oil bill to be approved by the legislature this session went to the Governor today after its adoption by the senate, according to a United Press dispatch to The Register from Sacramento.

Introduced by Assemblyman John H. O'Donnell, Woodland, it would create an oil commission consisting of the state controller and the directors of finance and natural resources, empowered to grant contracts for drilling the state-owned tideland area at Huntington Beach either by the slant method from littoral land or by direct drilling from piers.

Sen. Chris N. Jespersen, Atascadero, who handled the bill in the upper house, argued that it was not discriminatory; that it opened the field to large and small operators alike, on the basis of bids; that it was "fool proof

SCENES AT BEACH TRAILER CONVENTION

R. R. Wagner, Brooklyn, N. Y., at the left below is shown while a badge is being pinned to the lapel of his coat by Mrs. R. D. Stone, official hostess for the Huntington Beach Chamber of Commerce and one of the attractive young matrons selected to welcome guests to the Trailer convention. Wagner was the first trailerite to register. In the center is Richard Fraenberger, a visitor in the city, and James Williams, son of Mrs. Florence Williams, Sea Breeze resident camp manager. At the right is Suzanne Cooper, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Cooper, of Palm Springs, who is attending the convention with her mother and baby sister. Below is The Register trailer furnished by R. L. Peterson, Orange county dealer for Covered Wagons.

TAX MESSAGE READY TUESDAY

WASHINGTON, May 29.—(UP)—President Roosevelt plans to send to congress at noon Tuesday his special message recommending legislation plugging loop holes in the federal income tax law structure, the White House said today.

Works on Message

The president, almost recovered from a slight cold, worked on the message in his study today, hoping to complete it before he leaves tonight to spend the Memorial day weekend at his Hyde Park, N. Y., summer home.

The message will be aimed at a group of wealthy persons who, the president said, were avoiding and evading income tax payments by unethical and immoral means.

The president's decision to rush the income tax message to congress strengthened belief on Capitol Hill that Mr. Roosevelt has reversed his legislative strategy and plans to crowd the controversial judicial reorganization bill into the background in favor of half dozen other favored pieces of legislation.

Seek to Stop Loop-holes

The legislation he will recommend was expected to stop loop-holes discovered by the U. S. treasury in a field study of income tax returns from all sections of the country.

The president intimated that additional legislation would be recommended in the future as new loop holes were uncovered.

$1,517,807 Tax Fund Is Apportioned

Except for a record low delinquency of 4.63 per cent still uncollected, the 1936-37 taxes of Orange county have all been apportioned to the respective funds and districts, County Auditor W. T. Lambert announced today, reporting a second and final apportionment of $1,517,807.54, which brings the total to $4,754,168.46.

The report shows $230,990.19 still uncollected, of the total tax charge amounting to $4,985,158.65.

Of the second apportionment, $324,329.77 was collected for cities: Fullerton, Santa Ana, and Laguna Beach. Other cities of the county do their own collecting of municipal taxes. That total also includes apportionment to the Metropolitan Water district, for Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton, and two water districts in the vicinity of Laguna Beach.

Apportionment to county funds totaled $345,630.42, and to road funds, $594,777. Schools received $706,752.23 and various special districts, such as lighting, water, fire, library, drainage, etc., were apportioned $144,348.35.

PARENTS OF GIRL OFFER $500 REWARD

CLEVELAND, May 29.—(UP)—Mr. and Mrs. Carl Baumgardner today offered a $500 reward for information resulting in the finding of their daughter, Ruth Elizabeth, who disappeared May 4 from Ohio Wesleyan University. The reward expires July 1, 1937.

Five thousand circulars carrying notices of the reward were mailed today to police departments and sheriff's offices.

No trace of the girl has been found since she left a dormitory at Delaware, O., seat of Ohio Wesleyan. She is 22, five feet, four inches in height, weighs 111, has light brown hair with two lighter streaks in front and has blue gray eyes. Her parents said she combed back her hair usually with two rows of curls in back. She walks with a long stride.

ELECTION ON BONDS TO BE SET JUNE 1

Another week's delay in the calling of the $2,500,000 flood bond election loomed today when members of the board of supervisors were informed unofficially by their special counsel, B. Z. McKinney, that the bond proceedings will not be ready next Tuesday for adoption by the supervisors.

At present the proceedings are in the hands of bond attorneys for inspection and an opinion as to the legality of the set-up as prepared. This will insure no hitch in the proceedings if and when the bonds are approved by the voters.

In the face of the week's delay, it appeared that the election call will be issued Tuesday, June 1, which would mean that the election would take place between July 8 and July 23, since the election cannot be called less than 30 days nor more than 45 days from the time the engineering plan is adopted and the election call issued by the supervisors.

If the bond election is set for a Tuesday, as is deemed probable, it would fall on either July 13 or 20.

McKinney, it is understood, advised the supervisors today that the bond attorneys would not complete their examination of the proceedings and have their opinion ready by next Tuesday's meeting of the board.

MANY DIE IN REBELS' RAIDS

BARCELONA, Spain, May 29.—(UP)—An official communiqué today said 60 persons were killed and more than 50 wounded in the second terrific bombardment on Barcelona in two days.

The raid was the most extensive in Barcelona since the start of the Spanish civil war nearly a year ago. The seven raiders were trimotored planes (apparently Junkers) from Palma, on the island of Mallorca.

The planes dropped heavy bombs in the heart of Barcelona during the 30-minute raid.

After leaving Barcelona, the rebel air raiders bombed the towns of Santa Coloma and Batallona, in the suburbs.

Flying on down the coast, they next raided Barcelona, a beach near here. One report said 15 persons were killed there and 47 wounded.

In Barcelona, 30 dead were removed from two houses wrecked by the insurgent explosive and incendiary bombs. Ten dead and 50 wounded were removed from cafes.

Late News Flashes

FIELD CLUB, PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 29.—(UP)—Denny Shute, of Boston, the defending champion, gained the final round of the National P. G. A. tournament today with a 3 and 2 victory over Tony Manero, of Salem, Mass., national open king.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., May 29.—(UP)—Donald Budge and Bryan (Betsy) Grant, won for the United States in the opening matches of the Davis cup tennis series with Australia today, Grant downing Young John Bromwich, 6-2, 7-5, 6-1, after Budge had beaten Jack Crawford, 6-1, 6-3, 6-2.

NEW YORK, May 29.—(UP)—Pittsburgh won the 61st I. C. A. A. A. track team championship today, beating out Columbia by a half point, 30½ to 30.

CINCINNATI, May 29.—(UP)—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor refused today to approve President Roosevelt's legislation to establish maximum hours and minimum wages except in an amended form.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 29.—(UP)—Labor relations board legislation was dead today so far as this session of lawmakers was concerned, members of a "free conference" committee admitted when the representatives of the two houses failed to agree on a mediation plan today.

Youth Saved From Death In H. B. Pool

Starting as a joyous lark Friday night the class plunge party of the eighth grade at Ocean View elementary school was saved from tragedy through the heroism of one of the students.

Students of the eighth grade at the school were taken to Huntington Beach for a picnic which ended with a swim in the plunge.

Henry Ortiz, 15, while swimming in the plunge, saw Glenn Shepard, 15, lying at the bottom of the pool under eight feet of water. He dived and struggled with the apparently lifeless form until he brought him safely to the surface.

The children had been in the pool for sometime before the near-tragedy was discovered. How long young Shepard had been on the bottom of the pool is not known nor is it known what caused the accident.

Laughing and shouting in the water none of the children had noticed young Shepard when he leaped into the water. He had been laughing and shouting with them just a few minutes before. Neither did they see Ortiz when he made his discovery and, without waiting for help, dived to the bottom of the plunge to aid his stricken playmate.

When Ortiz emerged with the apparently lifeless form of young Shepard the happy laughter of his mates was still. Plunge attendants and teachers who had accompanied the children to the beach rushed to help Ortiz bring his companion to safety. First aid was administered to young Shepard and he was able to accompany the party back to Ocean View.

According to a report today steps are being taken to obtain a Carnegie medal for Ortiz.

SHIP IS SAVED FROM DISASTER

SAN PEDRO, Calif., May 29.—(UP)—A veteran skipper's quick decision to fun for open sea after an 80-mile tropical hurricane had trapped the Panama Pacific passenger liner Virginia in Acapulco harbor on the southwest coast of Mexico was credited by passengers disembarking today at Los Angeles harbor with saving the ship from piling up on the Mexican coast.

Capt. George V. Richardson found the mouth of Acapulco harbor through a blinding rainstorm and dropped anchor inside the point at 3 p.m. The stern of the Virginia swung wildly in the heavy fog.

Capt. Richardson was counting on a shift in the wind or a rising barometer to make his position less precarious. Instead the wind rose and the glass fell. At 5:30 p.m.

Adjournment Delayed By State Senate

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 29.—(UP)—For the first time in many years the assembly, with double the membership and twice as many bills introduced, completed its calendar far in advance of the senate.

As a result resolutions on almost every conceivable subject were submitted for consideration while the assemblymen marked time pending arrivals of bills from the upper house for concurrence in amendments.

One proposal paid tribute to the oratorical and legislative ability of Republican Assemblyman William B. Hornblower and offered to trade three Democratic members for his services in handling the bills of the Democrats.

Appreciative Republicans, however, insisted the vociferous San Franciscan was worth more than that and the resolution was voted down.

S. A. STUDENTS FILE PROTEST

Protests against using the auditorium at Julia Lathrop Junior High school for future assemblies or for graduation were filed yesterday with Principal H. G. Nelson by approximately 50 students of the ninth grade.

In their petition the signers declared that they were acting on behalf of the entire student body and could, if necessary, obtain signatures of a majority of the ninth grade students and a large portion of students in the seventh and eighth grades.

Object to Ventilation

Objection to use of the auditorium was based on the charge that alleged improper ventilation makes the room unhealthy and uncomfortable.

In the petition, objection to using the auditorium for the annual graduation exercises was the first point raised by the students, who declared:

"In view of the fact the yearly graduation is drawing near we have thought of last year's graduation and the disapproval of parents of students in the 1936 graduating class. Last year it was to impress upon the parents, the condition of our auditorium. This year we, by this petition wish to make it known that we do not want to graduate in the Lathrop auditorium."

Referring to assemblies held in the auditorium the students, in their petition, declared "it would be better to go to no assemblies

RULE TAX LEVIED ON GAS DEALERS

WASHINGTON, May 29.—(UP)—The internal revenue bureau ruled today that the California state gasoline tax is deductible for federal income tax purposes by the distributor and not by the consumer.

The bureau held that the tax under the law was clearly levied upon the distributor. If, however, the tax were added to or made part of the business expense of the distributor or were otherwise used to reduce his net income, the revenue bureau ruled it was deductible by him separately as tax.

PROCLAMATION ON MEMORIAL DAY ISSUED BY S. A. MAYOR

In a proclamation issued today Mayor Fred C. Rowland officially designated Monday, May 31, as the date for observance of Memorial Day in Santa Ana. Mayor Rowland's proclamation said:

"The observance of Decoration Day as a national holiday has its beginning when General Logan, then commander of the G. A. R. proclaimed to his organization as follows:

"The 30th of May, 1868, is designated for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion, and whose bodies now lie buried in almost every city, village, hamlet and churchyard in the land. In this observance, one form of ceremony is prescribed, but posts and comrades will in their own way ar-

11 ORDERED TO TESTIFY BEFORE JURY

Process servers handed Assemblyman Samuel W. Vorty, of Los Angeles, a subpoena today, citing him to appear before the county grand jury in Sacramento Tuesday, when District Attorney Otis D. Babcock opens an inquiry into rumors of bribery and corruption in connection with Huntington Beach tideland legislation, according to a United Press dispatch to The Register.

Vorty was the 11th witness to be summoned for the session.

Charges Threatened

Babcock meantime threatened that contempt charges would be filed against Assemblyman Charles A. Hunt, of Los Angeles, if he does not appear at the grand jury chamber Tuesday. Hunt, contending he was protected by legislative immunity, refused service of a subpoena last night, insisting he would not remain in Sacramento to testify unless his expenses were paid.

Both the district attorney and Deputy Attorney General Jess Hession said, however, that Hunt was "without a leg to stand on." Presentation of the subpoena was equivalent to service, they said.

"So far as we're concerned, Hunt has been subpoenaed," Babcock explained. "If he doesn't show up Tuesday, he will be guilty of contempt and we'll treat him just like any other person."

Those subpoenaed included Sen.

STEEL MEN GET FOOD BY PLANE

CLEVELAND, May 29.—(UP)—The steel strike became a grim siege today. The Republic Steel corporation resorted to the use of airplanes to drop food to men in at least one plant isolated by pickets.

Trucks Turned Back

It was the first time in the history of industrial strife that such an aerial strategem was used. The company called the airplanes into action at Niles, O., after pickets had turned back U. S. mail trucks in which it had sought to deliver supplies to plants at Niles, Canton and Warren, O.

The company said it used the planes because of failure of the postal trucks to get through and because local authorities were "either unable or unwilling to provide protection" for the handling of food by normal commercial means.

Tearing up trucks in some instances, the pickets also blocked railroad deliveries to plants at Warren and Youngstown.

Officers; Picket Hurt

In Chicago six policemen and four strikers required hospital treatment of injuries suffered last night in a battle of clubs and stones. Two hundred police swung clubs to stop an attempted mass picketing demonstration by 1,000 strikers at Republic's South Chicago mill. The pickets replied with stones but were turned back. Union officials said that in addition to those hospitalized, nine other

GILLENWATERS IN $202,500 DAMAGE PLEA

High-powered litigation between T. R. Gillenwaters and the La Vida Mineral Springs company reached a new peak today when Gillenwaters filed suit in superior court against the La Vida company and three of its officials, asking $202,500 damages for malicious prosecution.

That makes $202,500 that Gillenwaters demands from the mineral springs company, a previous suit filed some months ago having asked $105,000 damages for alleged breach of agreement for making Gillenwaters Southern California agent for the mineral springs product.

Action Pending Sandwiched between these two civil actions, were two criminal actions, in which Gillenwaters was defendant instead of plaintiff. The charges were dismissed in both cases, and now form the basis of the present malicious-prosecution charges.

The $105,000 suit by Gillenwaters was based on the claim that after he had been given the Southern California agency for La Vida mineral springs products, had expended large sums in establishing a Los Angeles headquarters and stocking the product; also had arranged for various sub-agencies at various parts of the Southland, the La Vida company terminated his agency and went directly to his sub-agents to do business.

Claims Persecution Last January 21, La Vida officials charged Gillenwaters with issuing a fraudulent check, and caused his arrest. At his preliminary hearing before Justice K. E. Morrison, of Santa Ana, the charge was dismissed.

Again, on April 14, he claims they filed a criminal charge of conspiracy against him, but again the case was dismissed at his preliminary hearing. He claims both prosecutions were maliciously inspired. This suit today for $202,500 damages named the La Vida Mineral Springs company, W. N. Miller, Alfred G. Mitchell and Paul G. Hausman as defendants.

Threat in Note Is Checked Here Brief investigation by Assistant Chief Harry P. Pink of a threatening letter received by Harry Burman, 21, president of the retail clerks union here, ended today without results.

The letter, written by typewriter on a piece of yellow paper, told Burman to "mind your own business." He attributed receipt of it to some "strong union statements" made at a recent meeting here, of officers said.

Officer Pink said he doubted whether the writer of the note could be prosecuted if apprehended. "Burman," said the note, "Just a little suggestion that will do you and your family lots of good. Minding your own business and keeping your mouth shut is going to be very healthy for you. If you can't see it this way, you have to take what all wise guys get. So just a tip and be smart for your own good, and do your home knitting so you won't get hurt."

GETS 250-DAY TERM Louis Mennay, 45, bartender, of Los Angeles, was sentenced to 250 days in the county jail following his arrest on a petty theft charge. Constable William Ponting, of Costa Mesa, arrested him.

TRAILER TOWN GOSSIP

By MARAH ADAMS

From Cuba, Minnesota, the far west and the far east, from Florida and Canada, trailer tourists are arriving in Huntington Beach daily renewing old acquaintances among those who travel the highways and byways in luxurious and cozy trailer quarters.

From Florida came the vice president, Lieut. Edwin Murphy, U. S. N., of the American Tourists association, who expects to organize a branch of the organization on the Pacific coast and who is one of the persons most in demand at the present convention.

Lieut. and Mrs. Murphy live in a trailer at the Sea Breeze Trailer Village where a canopy and camp chairs form a pleasant out of door living room. The Murphys have been trailer traveling for the past three years and not once during this period have lived in a house. They are from St. Petersburg, Fla., and believe it or not, they acknowledge that Florida, too, has "unusual" weather.

Lieut. Murphy was speaker at the Huntington Beach Rotary club yesterday and he gave the city great credit in promoting the convention which opened May 28 and which will close on June 6. Southern California hospitality has not changed, Lieut. Murphy says, since the days of the Dons. In the three temptation for the visitors.

Son, Five Grandsons Meeting Rockefeller Cortège

The six men—John D. Rockefeller's only son and five grandsons—to whom control of one of the world's largest private dynasties has fallen, were gathered at the Tarrytown, N. Y., station to meet the body of the financier-philanthropist as this picture was taken. Left to right they are: John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and his sons, David, Nelson, Winthrop, Lawrence and John D. Rockefeller III. The body of their father and grandfather arrived from the "Casements" in Florida, where he died. Private funeral services were held at the Pocantico Hills estate and the body of the world's one-time richest man was sent to Cleveland for burial beside his wife and mother.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon, the first known Pacific coast trailer parade took place. The parade was headed by Major Willis H. Warner of Huntington Beach and M. M. McCallen, president of the chamber of commerce and included colorful units from civic organizations, a police escort, the fire department, commercial floats, bands, drum corps and house trailers.

Band Concert Tonight

There is to be a band concert tonight at 8 o'clock and at 9:30 p. m. a merchants' street dance on the first block off Main street. Music will be furnished by Jimmie Jeffries and his Hill Billy band and special numbers will be offered by Skeels' entertainers. Live bait and fishing excursions have been in progress all day with deep sea barge fully equipped attracting many fishermen.

Church services will be held Sunday and at 11 a. m. a golf tournament will be staged at the Huntington Beach golf course. At 2 p. m. there is to be a band concert at the beach grandstand, with John Peterson as director. A swimming party is scheduled for the plunge at 4 p. m. and evening camp fires will be unique events.

Interest is centered in the selection of the first "Trailerite" queen ever to be chosen, who will be crowned at impressive ceremonies Tuesday at 8 p. m. The girl chosen must be single and must arrive in Huntington Beach in a trailer.

FERRY SERVICE IS STOPPED BY STRIKE

SEATTLE, May 29.—(UP)—Puget sound ferry service stopped today and thousands of commuters were stranded when 400 members of the Inland Boatmen's union went on strike and tied up 25 passenger and automobile ferries.

An 11 passenger amphibian plane went into service between Seattle and Bremerton during the emergency.

Ferryboatmen struck when employees reportedly refused to increase wages 20 per cent, shorten hours and pay an average wage of $350 per day.

Pleasants Ranch Again To Be Home Of Blooded Stock

The old Pleasants home where Judge J. E. Pleasants lived for many years in Santiago canyon, has again become the home for blooded stock, having been leased by Dr. A. C. Vail, a veterinary dentist, who has a large practice in this vicinity. The lease has been made for a term of years. It is understood and Dr. Vail and his family will reside there.

Included in Dr. Vail's blooded stock are a number of brood mares and young stock, beautifully marked "paint" fillies and colts with both black and white, and chestnut and white, markings. He also has a small drove of blooded pinto saddle horses.

Judge Pleasants loved horses, it is recalled, and bred a number of outstanding ones in days gone by. Old friends feel that it is especially fitting the Pleasants ranch should be returned to the raising of blooded stock.

VIDOSH BEGINS 75-DAY TERM

John F. Vidosh, 35, of 718 East Chestnut, who was placed on three years' probation in October, 1935, after conviction on a negligent homicide charge, today began a 75-day term in county jail, after pleading guilty to drunk driving charge before City Judge J. G. Mitchell yesterday.

Vidosh had the alternative of paying a $150 fine. On October 4, 1935, Vidosh was arrested by Officers Harry Fink and B. A. Hershey and charged with manslaughter, a charge later changed to negligent homicide. He was blamed in the death of S. H. Hayward, Laguna Beach man, who was struck down at First and Lyon street by Vidosh's truck.

Vidosh was placed on probation by Superior Judge A. Caminetti of Amador county, who was sitting here for Judge James L. Allen. Probation officers were investigating Vidosh's record today.

MEXICAN AVIATRIX PLANS CHUTE JUMP

"Mexican day" will be celebrated at the Eddie Martin airport tomorrow afternoon as the popular aviatrix, Beatriz Ramirez of Los Angeles, ex-parachute jumper, a licensed pilot, puts her plane through a series of stunts.

Miss Ramirez will be accompanied on the flight, which begins at 4 p. m., by "Baby" Delfino Aguilera, parachute jumper, according to Jimmy Washburn, jump instructor at the airport.

At 5:30 p. m., Delfino, student of Washburn, will make a parachute jump over the port, from a plane piloted at 2000 feet elevation by Floyd Martin. Sol Gonzalez, well-known Santa Ana business man, is sponsoring the program.

At 5 p. m., Jerry "Hopalong Cassidy" Keeley of Long Beach will make a parachute "hop" over the port, Washburn said.

DEMANDS $50,000 Onecimo Aguirre sued the Pacific Freight Lines for $50,000 damages in superior court today, for injuries he received in a collision between two trucks April 12 at the corner of Little Main and Sycamore streets, West Orange.

POULTRY GROUP HEARS ADDRESS

Dr. E. M. Dickinson told a group of Orange county poultrymen how to combat coccidiosis, a parasitic disease present in all poultry flocks, at a meeting in Costa Mesa yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Dickinson, a recognized authority on poultry diseases, told the 40 members attending that the only control is through the interruption of the life cycle of the minute animal parasite.

He recommended a 40 per cent milk diet or a molasses bran, followed by daily cleaning for a week's period.

The university professor spent considerable time giving the detail of the life cycle of the parasite that causes a high mortality rate in Orange county poultry.

He stressed the damaging effect the six different types of coccidia have on poultry. These coccidia are always present in the birds, but do not take hold until the resistance of the fowl is lowered.

Sanitation is one of the chief factors in combating it, Dr. Dickinson indicated.

Ross E. Crane of the Orange county office of the Agricultural Extension service gave a report on the current trend of the poultry industry in Orange county and discussed the 1936 Poultry Cost studies conducted by the service.

According to the last U. S. census, there are 6000 farms in Orange county and one-third of these, or approximately 2000, are engaged in the poultry industry.

This does not mean that all of these farms are in the commercial poultry business, but they are virtually interested in the trends of the business, Crane said.

Yesterday afternoon's meeting was held at the home of Mrs. A. C. Almond, Rochester and Orange streets, Costa Mesa. It was one of a series now being held in the interest of the poultrymen.

One Jailed, One Sought In Quiz

One man was booked at county jail today on a charge he contributed to delinquency of a 19-year-old Orange county girl, and a second man was being sought on complaint of juvenile authorities that he committed a felony morals offense against a 15-year-old Orange county girl.

William Bibles, 24, Los Angeles automobile salesman, was booked at the jail and released on $2000 bail pending trial. Oliver Hibdon, Santa Ana man, was being sought. Hibdon recently served a three-months jail term after conviction on charge of violating the alcohol beverage act by giving wine to a 16-year-old boy.

QUIZ TO OPEN TUESDAY

Culbert L. Olson, Los Angeles; Assemblymen Gene Flint, Los Angeles; Fred Reeves, San Pedro; Henry P. Meehan, Oakland; Patrick J. McMurray, San Francisco; John B. Pelletier, Los Angeles; Rodney L. Turner, Delano; Ernest O. Voigt, Los Angeles, and Ray K. Kahl, lower house assistant sergeant-at-arms.

The oil inquiry evolved from Senator Olson's charges of attempted bribery. Speaking on the senate floor in opposition to a tideland bill introduced by Assemblyman Ralph Welsh, Los Angeles, Olson asserted that "monopolistic interests" had offered him "$5,000 or $10,000" to withhold a tideland regulatory measure he introduced in the senate and which was enacted into law. He told of rumors of pay-offs in connection with lower house approval of the Welsh bill.

Monopoly Charged The Welsh bill admittedly would supersede the Olson measure in all essential particulars and would permit major oil operators a virtual monopoly on the rich undersea pool at Huntington Beach, opponents charged.

The Welsh measure was passed through the legislature and awaits executive decision, but the Arroyo Seco proposal was killed in a senate committee.

Babcock entered the situation when both houses, reacting to Olson's outburst, passed resolutions calling upon the attorney general and district attorneys to undertake investigation of statements that "corruption exists within the membership of the legislature."

Babcock said his inquiry also will be directed toward circumstances attending assembly passage of a bill proposing to reroute the Arroyo Seco boulevard in Pasadena, he said. Babcock planned a telephone interview today with Mrs. Albert Sherman Hoyt, wealthy Pasadena woman, who was active in sponsoring the Arroyo Seco proposal because the boulevard as presently planned would cut through her property.

WPA HIKERS WILL INVADE SILVERADO

Under direction of the Recreation Project of the WPA hikers will invade Silverado county Sunday, according to an announcement today from the office of Truscott Lindsey, project director.

Hikers planning to make the trip are advised to meet at the end of Silver canyon road not later than 10 a. m. tomorrow. Three competent guides will be furnished by the Recreation project to help those hikers who are not familiar with the trails.

The trek will start at the end of the Silver Canyon road along the foot trail that follows the creek, and lead into the upper regions of the historical peaks of Santiago and Modjeska.

Funds shows such items as $54,031.64 for flood control, $72,938.12 welfare, $55,649.99 to the hospital fund, $92,503.34 to the general fund.

The elementary school special fund received $159,782.80, the elementary building fund $74,114.62, the high school general fund $268,517.81, junior college general fund $54,333.15, and kindergarten fund $609.65. The junior college apportionment gave $14,732.18 to Fullerton Junior college, $17,026.55 to Santa Ana Junior college and $22,524.42 to the county. The kindergarten apportionment included $190.56 for Laguna unified school district; $425.51 and $668.26 to the Placentia, Richfield and Yorba districts.

City Apportionment Apportionment to cities and districts included: Fullerton city tax, $45,706.98; Fullerton weed tax, $374.35; Laguna Beach city tax, $18,059.78; Laguna street tax, $7356.38; Laguna city improvement district, $2881.22; Laguna Beach county water district, $14,158.51; South Coast county water district, $920.64; Santa Ana city tax, $124,767.93; Santa Ana street tax, $124,767.93; Santa Ana weed tax, $414.22; Santa Ana acquisition and improvement district, tax, $15.76; Metropolitan Water district—Anaheim, $10,168.88, Fullerton, $14,566.35, Santa Ana $30,786.82.

Ken Murray SAYS:

HOLLYWOOD, May 29.—Well, I see the Soviet government announces it won't stick in a claim for the North Pole. But I didn't notice U. S. government bonds reacting to the good news. Of course Admiral Peary claimed he saw the Pole first in 1909, but Dr. Cook beat him to the lecture circuits. The Admiral said he planted the red, white and blue at the Pole, but by now I suppose some polar bear has swallowed it under the impression it was a pousse cafe.

I don't know why the Soviets would want the North Pole anyway unless they intended to raise iceberg lettuce and get control of the aurora borealis. And besides, weren't the Northern Lights among the utilities that Insull sold the great American public?

There's only one other good reason the Soviet government wants the North Pole. Maybe they'd like to use it as a summer resort for Trotsky.

Nelson said that last year the school was forced to hold its graduation exercises in the auditorium which, formerly, was a commercial garage. At promotion time in 1936, he said, there was no other auditorium available. This year the exercises will be held in the high school auditorium.

Nelson indicated that there was some grounds for the protest, particularly when the auditorium is used for the showing of motion pictures. To show pictures successfully in the building it is necessary to close all doors and windows shutting out all light and air.

The students, in their petition, said "the educational value of any assembly is absolutely thrown out of the minds when the doors are closed and the windows are covered with curtains. The closed effect stills any breeze and a terrific heat is developed when such a small place is used for such a large group."

strikers suffered minor bruises and cuts.

During the melee, rocks were thrown, windows smashed and night-sticks and strike banners wielded freely, but the casualties were slight. A woman picket was trampled. She suffered bruises and her clothing was torn. The woman, her husband, and another man were arrested.

The Newton Steel company, in Monroe, Mich., another Republic subsidiary plant, was closed today after pickets prevented 450 members of the midnight shift from entering. Republic mills at Beaver Falls, Pa., and Cumberland, Md., in which 900 were employed, were closed yesterday.

Federal and state governments turned to the possibilities of mediation. Both found it would be futile to attempt any conciliation conferences until at least after the long week-end holiday.

ADS ON LIQUOR TO BE CENSORED

PORTLAND, Ore., May 29.—(UP)—Effective August 15, liquor advertising in Oregon will be regulated strictly by the Oregon state liquor control commission.

Regulations formally announced today provide that pictures of women may not be used in liquor advertisements, not more than three varieties of liquor may be mentioned in one advertisement, and no statement may be made that liquor is not harmful to persons.

Liquor advertisements on radio programs will be restricted to the hours between 10 p. m. and 1 a. m. and will be banned entirely on Sundays.

the barometer had dropped alarmingly.

The storm was coming directly into the mouth of the harbor so that the two rocky points outside afforded little protection.

Shortly before 5 p. m. Richardson made his decision. As the wind swung the stern around until the ship's prow was pointing into the storm, he weighed anchor and signaled the engine room for full speed ahead.

The suddenness of Richardson's decision to make a run into the storm gave little time for fastening movable objects. Chairs spun over the decks like autumn leaves. Glassware, in the bar and dining room was smashed. Dr. Williams J. Curry, ships surgeon, said no one was injured.

Records of County Clerk J. M. Backs' office, where they issue passports, show that more Orange county people are enjoying (?) foreign travel this year than ever before.

66 Since January During the present month, more than one passport per business day was issued, the total being 27 passports during the 26 days that the bureau was open. That total is the greatest ever issued during any one month in this county.

Since January 1, the total number of passports issued is 66, about a record for any five-month period. Probably the total would be greater, but many local residents are not aware that they can obtain passports here at home, and think they must shop in Los Angeles for them.

Teacher Slain by Boy Hikers

There was a threat of mob action after two young hikers, shown below, beat and fatally shot Miss Ada Carey, 26, Blunt, S. D., school teacher, above, when she gave them a ride on the highway near her home. The boys, Norman Westberg, 17, left, and Howard Christenson, 16, right, were taken to the Pierre jail.

PIONEER RANCH OWNER IS DEAD

George Robert Whitcomb, 55, pioneer resident of Orange county, died at his ranch home at West Orange this morning.

He is survived by the widow, Clara E. Whitcomb, and three children, Mrs. Herbert T. Rankin of Santa Ana; Mrs. Manuel Rogers of Peoria, Ill., and Harold F. Whitcomb of Los Angeles; four grandchildren, Audrey Whitcomb, Grace Isobell Rogers, and Patricia and Danny Rankin; and a brother, James A. Whitcomb of New York City.

The Rev. Dr. Robert McAulay, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Orange, will be in charge of the services at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday from the Coffey Funeral parlors, 120 East Almond street, Orange. Entombment will be at the Fairhaven mausoleum.

PRESIDENT SIGNS AIR STATION BILL

WASHINGTON, May 29.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today signed a bill authorizing establishment of a naval air station at Alameda, Calif., at a cost not to exceed $13,500,000.

A provision inserted by the house and later accepted by the senate, however, would prevent beginning construction until title to certain property adjacent to Benton field, former army field, is conveyed to the navy department.

An appropriation of $1,000,000 is available to begin work without further action by congress, navy committee attaches said.

The measure would authorize the construction of all necessary buildings and accessories, and bulkheading and dredging which is necessary in San Francisco bay.

Mother Accused Of Kidnaping Son

CONCORD, Calif., May 29.—(UP)—Mrs. Gladys Harper, 35, was to be taken to Los Angeles today to face charges of kidnaping her 14-year-old son.

She divorced her husband, Robert McGowan, sr., of Altadena, in 1930, and under the terms of the decree, their two children, Palma, 11 and Robert, 14, were awarded to the custody of the father.

McGowan charged that his former wife kidnaped their son from his home in Altadena.

SCRIBE HINTS TRAVEL ABROAD MAY BE BROADENING TWO WAYS

COLLEGE CHOIR TO SING HERE

The Whittier College capella choir will present numerous selections from the dramatic oratorio by Sir Arthur Sullivan, "The Prodigal Son," at the Methodist Episcopal church, Memorial Day at 5:30 p. m. Included also on the program will be numbers by the combined glee clubs, and the men's and women's glee clubs.

Soloists for the evening will be Ruth Shakarian, soprano; Ardith Low, contralto; Paul Osterman, tenor; and Frank Pursell, bass, also conductor of the groups.

The program will include "Sing Unto the Lord a New Song" by Alex Russell, sung by the men's glee club. The women's glee club will then sing "Lift Thine Eyes," from "Elijah," by Mendelssohn. The combined glee clubs will present "Hosanna" by F. Millus Christiansen, and "Ave Maris Stella" by Edward Grieg. The final group on the program will be selections from "The Prodigal Son."

Sunday morning, the church will be host to the American Legion and the Legion auxiliary.

THOUSANDS VISIT CITY FOR FIESTA

SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—(UP)—A steady stream of cars which it was believed would surpass the 100,000 mark before the Memorial Day weekend is over, poured across the new Golden Gate bridge today as San Francisco continued its celebration of the opening of the mighty span.

More than 30,000 cars, it was estimated, crossed the bridge between noon yesterday, when it was officially opened, and this morning.

Meanwhile, the fiesta spirit gained momentum as celebrants from all parts of the west converged on the city to take part in the week of pageantry and parades in connection with the bridge dedication.

Most of the revellers were content to bedeck themselves in wild west or Spanish costumes but police reported more than 100 others took the celebration too literally. They were jailed on charges of being drunk.

PARADES PLANNED ON MEMORIAL DAY

NEW YORK, May 29.—(UP)—A three day holiday weekend began today for residents of all but eight southern states.

Monday will be a legal holiday because Memorial Day, May 30, falls this year on Sunday.

Railroads and air lines, boats, buses, and private automobiles carried thousands from big cities to beaches and country resorts.

Thousands of country residents journeyed to the cities for a taste of urban life.

The Grand Army of the Republic, which is the premier celebrant of Memorial day—observed in the northern states in honor of those killed in the Civil war—planned parades in many cities.

Task of Mailing Air Show Letters Is Started Here

The huge task of mailing out 2000 invitations to licensed airplane pilots of Southern California to attend Santa Ana's first annual Aviation Show, June 20, was completed today.

The invitations were typed at the office of the Santa Ana chamber of commerce and are notifying every pilot of the event, being sponsored here by the chamber of commerce and inviting them to attend the show and free barbecue.

DEATH NOTICES

A WORD OF COMFORT

The youth of today demands reality. There is an echo of this appeal at the depths of your sorrowing hearts. You are saying and philosophizing cannot satisfy you; you want something solid to stand upon, something sure in which to trust.

No one else has ever been able to respond to your need as has the One Who demonstrated the validity of His faith by triumphing over death. He promises, "Cause I live, ye shall live also."

Pin your faith on Him; follow His leadership, and "Ye shall receive power."

WHITCOMB—At his ranch home in West Orange, this morning, George Robert Whitcomb, aged 85. Funeral services will be held Tuesday, June 1, at 10:30 a. m. from the Coffey funeral home, 120 East Almond street, Orange, with the Rev. Robert McAuley, pastor of the Orange Presbyterian church, officiating. Interment will be at Fairhaven mausoleum. Mr. Whitcomb is survived by his widow, Mrs. Clara E. ## Court Notes

Mrs. Betty Elliott has filed suit in superior court for a divorce from Joseph W. Elliott, on grounds of alleged cruelty. They married in Los Angeles June 13, 1935, and separated March 31, this year.

Mary Lou Hosmar charged Albert J. Hosmar with cruelty, in a divorce complaint on file today in superior court. The couple married at Yuma January 16, 1929, and separated October 15, 1935.

The Santa Ana Mortgage and Investment Company today had filed suit in superior court against C. J. Gibboney, former Santa Ana cafe owner, asking judgment for $6989.45 alleged to be a balance due on a note made in 1933.

Charles and Louise Davey yesterday brought suit in superior court against Angela C. Reynolds, John H. Hardin and Anna B. Hardin, to quiet title to lots they purchased from Angela Reynolds on Laguna Heights, and to recover judgment for $2000 damages because, they allege, adjoining property of the Hardins encroaches to the extent of 23 feet upon one of their lots.

FUSS SETTLED; NO PUNISHMENT MEANT, NO, SIR

By GEORGE HART

Several interesting items were poured into this column's lil' pink ear today by Supervisor John Mitchell, such as:

1—So far as Supervisor Coffee John is concerned the typewriter fuss is settled, in favor of the auditor and other elected officials. The court has spoken.

2—Ninety per cent of county officials and employees have answered the questionnaires sent them by Mitchell and N. E. West, the board's salary committee. There are no "smarts" answers in the lot, and several helpful suggestions were received.

No Punishment

3—Mitchell had no thought of punishing Chairman Willard Smith by taking patronage away from him, when he, Mitchell, got the right to appoint one of his own constituents to the existing vacancy on the sheriff's fruit patrol.

4—Cliff King, of Huntington Beach, selected by the board on Mitchell's motion, for the fruit patrol vacancy, was found to have another job, so Mitchell has substituted Ed Hoffman, of Garden Grove, now working in the road department, for the fruit patrol job. Hoffman's recommendation has been sent to Sheriff Logan Jackson for approval.

Oppose An Appeal

Mitchell's attitude on the typewriter case means that at least two members of the board will oppose an appeal from Superior Judge G. K. Scovel's recent decision that the supervisors do not control the purchasing agent, and the purchasing agent must buy the L. C. Smith typewriter ordered by Auditor W. T. Lambert. Chairman Willard Smith, of Orange, has sided with Lambert and the other elected officials from the start, with respect to their right to dictate purchases of their own equipment.

How other supervisors will stand, with respect to appealing the case, is not yet shown. Their special counsel, B. Z. McKinney, still is convinced that the supervisors have the law on their side of the case, if they want to carry the case up to higher courts.

Mitchell himself still believes that the typewriter business and other county purchases should be distributed among business firms of the county, he said, but since the court has made its ruling, the responsibility no longer rests on the supervisors, he feels.

"Theonus no longer is on us," he said. "Any complaints that come to us, now, can be referred to the officials who order the goods. The court has said it's not our responsibility, and that suits me fine."

As a result of this sentiment, Mitchell has made himself some friends at the courthouse.

BLAKEMORE OF S. A. WINS NET TOURNEY

Red-headed Bob Blakemore, Santa Ana high school's latest tennis sensation, was the newly crowned singles champion of the annual Orange invitational tournament today, after subduing Montebello's Elson Staugaard, the favorite, yesterday at Orange.

Blakemore took Wally Runstan of Woodrow Wilson into camp in straight sets (6-3, 8-5) in the semi-final round. Then he came back after losing the first set in the finals at 5-7 to win the deciding sets 6-4, 6-3 against the tiring Staugaard.

Marvin Jacobs, Blakemore's teammate, was given credit in many quarters for "softening" the tournament favorite in the semi-finals. He extended Staugaard in three hard sets which produced some of the best tennis of the entire tournament.

The summary:
Semi-finals—Staugaard (Montebello) d. Jacobs (Santa Ana), 6-3, 7-9, 6-4; Blakemore (Santa Ana) d. Runstan (Woodrow Wilson), 6-3, 8-5.

Finals—Blakemore def. Staugaard 5-7, 6-4, 6-3.

"LAST OF BOOKIES" GIVEN PAROLE FROM COUNTY JAIL

H. B. Wilson, "last of the bookies," was paroled from the county jail yesterday after serving something more than half of a six-months sentence from superior court for receiving wagers outside of a licensed racetrack.

Wilson was one of half a dozen Balboa operators sentenced in connection with operations of a place by Wilson and Alex Anderson. The other five defendants immediately started serving their sentences but Wilson appealed the case.

His appeal was lost, and by that time the other five defendants had been paroled from jail, before

That is a pretty poor feed of fodder so instead we will copy what seems worth reading. V. L. Owen, business analyst, writes in May 17 Townsend National Weekly:

"No writer has shown more clearly the necessity for the circulation of money, why it is not in circulation, nor the benefits derived when it does circulate, than the late Arthur Brisbane, in four brief, epigrammatic statements:

1. Money is useful only when it circulates. 2. When all water is frozen tight there is nothing to drink, and now all money is frozen tight in banks. 3. Printing money and hiding it away is like baking bread for a hungry family and locking it up in the cupboard. 4. But as money is distributed the standard of living goes up, the public has greater buying power, and on the buying power our national security depends. Nothing else will bring about active business."

At present we have no national plan or method of forcing our idle, hoarded money into active circulation. We have no method of keeping it in circulation; no national plan of keeping it constantly at work buying things and employing help. Our whole scheme of things, our whole plan, has been to hoard money, to lock it up, to hang on to it, to take it out of circulation, because we had nothing to guarantee that we would be properly taken care of when we were old. Neither have we any definite, national plan for its circulation for business uses; it has been every fellow for himself, with our banks saying whether we can or can not have our own money to use, and now our banks say our government is controlling them, and there you have it.

Now comes the Townsend plan, which might properly be called the National Money Circulation plan, and opens the way to remedy these wrong conditions by collecting a commission, or tax, on each and every one of our 900 billions of transactions, each and every month, and farming it into a gigantic, scientific money distribu-

"WHITE COLLAR" WORKERS TO BE EXEMPT IN CUT

Proposed reduction of California's work relief quota, indicated yesterday in a communication received here from National Relief Director Harry Hopkins, Washington, D. C., probably will not affect any "white collar" workers in Orange county other than those on the Federal Music project.

Word that the proposed cut probably would not affect workers on the PTWW projects, including the Recreational and Sewing project, came from F. P. Jayne, director of that department of the WPA today.

Branch Expanded

At present, Jayne said, he is increasing the number of workers in his branch of the service, having added 30 in May. The additions, he said, principally were on the Sewing project where women, recently dropped from the rolls were being returned to work.

Jayne said at present he is operating his department above the quota allowed by the government and that, to date, he has received no orders to reduce. On the other hand, he said, requests for additional job assignments have been honored by the district administrative office.

1050 On Payroll

Jayne said his quota of workers, exclusive of workers on federal projects, is 750 persons. At present he is providing work for approximately 800 persons, exclusive of the federal project workers. Including the federal group 1050 persons are working on "white collar" jobs in this county.

Women being returned to the Sewing project in this county, Jayne said, were cut off several weeks ago for various reasons. They are being returned to work under a revision of regulations that permits them to again qualify for work relief. The principal benefactors are women who were dropped because of eligibility for relief under the Old Age Security law. They are being returned to work until they are actually in receipt of Old Age pensions.

This will guarantee the continuous circulation of our money at definite times, for a definite purpose, hence merchants will know what to depend upon, thus stabilizing business.

This really is something new under the sun and the Townsend plan has the distinction, as far as I know, of being the first plan, on a national scale, for forcing money into wide-spread and well balanced circulation, and forcing it to keep right on circulating.

In referring to the big fair and bazaar at Townsend hall, it was mentioned that club No. 1 has an artistically decorated booth. The number of the club inadvertently was left out. Club No. 1 has fine home-made cakes, pies, doughnuts, cookies, candies and other things for sale.

In another part of the same column, it was pointed out that Tustin No. 1 club has quite a line of cut flowers, growing plants, orange, and lemon trees, artificial flowers and many useful articles.

The booth supervised by the Rev. Rockwell and the Rev. Sarah is being well patronized and appreciated.

There will be an important meeting of all club presidents and authorized speakers with the district board, held at the Christian church bungalow on Seventh street, between Lemon and Lime streets, Riverside, Calif., at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, June 5th. All presidents and speakers are urged to be present.

Beaumont Townsend club announces that they are sponsoring the "Cherry Queen Ball" to be held at the Woman's clubhouse in Beaumont Friday, June 4 at 8 p. m. This is a very important part of the annual cherry harvest festival and Beaumont Townsend club is justly proud of receiving this assignment.

A moving picture in colors of the Townsend bazaar will be taken at Townsend hall tonight. It is planned to allow everyone there to be in the picture by a passing parade through the aisles.

OFFICER HEARD PROVES THAT HE IS "A SWELL FRIEND"

Officer W. B. "Bud" Heard just laughed and laughed because he knew he was Officer Heard, all the time. And was a Santa Ana youth's face redder than an uncured chili pepper, today!

Stopping the youth on West Fourth street, near Franklin school, 1512 West Fourth, to give him a warning about traveling too fast in the district, Officer Heard received the surprise of his life.

"It's this way, officer," said the youth, "I'm all right, really. And honest, I've never been in any trouble anywhere. If you don't believe it, ask Officer 'Bud' Heard—call him up and ask him. He's a swell friend of mine and knows me well—I go out to his place every now and then." Officer Heard had difficulty, smothering a chuckle.

"When are you coming over to see me again?" asked Heard. "I only wanted to give you a warning but 'Old Man' Heard is liable to give you a ticket if you're not more careful. Next time, you had better know the officer you're talking to."

The youth blushed, "ground" the gear into "low" and crept away in his car.

CHILDREN AT PARK

Thirty-five children from El Modena school went to Irvine park for a play day under supervision of "Mayor" Matt Lujan of Delhi.

EMPLOYEES OF SHELL OIL CO. ENTERTAINED

We, THE PEOPLE by JAY FRANKLIN

THE TRIUMPH OF IVY LEE

C. S. Brakebill, local manager for Shell Oil, played host last night at a meeting of all the oil company's employees at the Shell Oil Co. building. Host and guests reviewed two motion picture films entitled "The Shell Sales Show of 1937." One of the films showed some lessons in industry, organizing of one's work, cleanliness, personal appearance, application and progress.

Among the interesting plans for 1937 which the oil concern's dealers and employees were told in detail was that this year Shell will carry on one of the largest oil advertising and sales promotion programs in the country. Newspapers will play an important part in the plan which will be supplemented by national magazines, a transcontinental radio program, outdoor posting in non-scenic locations, and enlargement of the Shell Touring Service, which supplies free information, road maps and guides to all motorists.

"The Shell Show," said Brakebill, "is a striking example of the interesting way in which progressive firms now give their sales forces information about sales and advertising plans. Information, as the company's executives put it, has replaced long speeches, and every laugh conveys serious statistics more effectively than statistics do."

Among those here last night for the show included Messrs. O. C. Hare, C. H. Reed, Bud Hare, Ed Rogers, Dave Gish, Rich Bassett, James Bowyer, James Drals, Logan Barnett, Ray Tarr, Don Clark and A. Konkey.

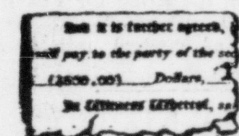

Those from the head office in Los Angeles putting on the show included Messrs. N. H. Wulff, Charles Garvin and A. Ermin.

Similar meetings will be conducted in all Southern California towns and the troupe expects to be on the road for another month.

JACK FISHER GROUP WILL PAY TRIBUTE

Members of Jack Fisher chapter and auxiliary, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, are requested to assemble at entrance to Fairhaven Cemetery at 9 a. m., Monday, Commanders John Cleary and Mrs. Pearl Laub, announced today.

Th. D. A. V. units will participate with other veteran organizations in Memorial Day services at the Cemetery and urge a large attendance. Those unable to march with the group are requested to report at the services inside the cemetery.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
PATRICIA WARREN, heroine, secretary to Don Monteray, actor.
TRISSY WARREN, Pats' cousin and roommate in New York.
DON MONTERAY, Patricia's actor-employer.
ROSAMOND AKERS, Patricia's rival.

Yesterday: Pats becomes the shield between Don and the outside world. At the same time she is falling in love with Don.

CHAPTER IV

THE days passed quickly, becoming more clock-like with every passing hour. Pats ran her little office with a master hand. She wrote letters, answered the telephone, handled love-licks, femininity, reporters and budding authors with tactful efficiency. And she learned to wait with feverish anticipation for the rare times when Don sent for her, when she found him tumbled as to hair, exultant with creative prowess.

One evening, remaining late to finish her work, Pats went to the drug store for a sustaining malted milk. Stepping from the elevator on her return she saw a girl enter her office. The living room door beyond stood open. As plans for the circumvention of the girl's obvious intention fitted through her mind, Don appeared in the act of closing the door.

"Rosie..." he gasped and Pats received the impression that his cordiality was more than a little forced. Rosie—that was the name of the girl whose letter he had refused to answer. "How are you?" He extended his hand but the girl ignored it. With a glad cry she threw her arms around his neck and kissed him lingeringly.

"THE girl was pretty in a hard, brittle way. She was tall and willowy, her hair was definitely red, her eyes luminously brown. Pats, busy herself at the desk, could not help hearing every word that was said. She thought the girl a trifle overdone, too perfect even to a lipstick and rouge, the little curls in front of her ears too obviously arranged.

"I thought you were in Hollywood," Don said, extricating himself from the girl's embrace. "What happened to your contract?"

"It was a beastly contract," Rosie complained. "I walked out on it."

"Not a very wise procedure in the picture game," Don commented mildly.

Rosie's tone became sweetly aggrieved. "I was lost without you, Don." Hesitating the fraction of a second, she asked, childishly wistful, "You wanted me to come, didn't you?"

"Naturally I'm glad to see you," the gentleman in Don responded. "I knew you would be, Don." She went eagerly on. "I have an idea. You know Baker is producing another red-head show in New York. It's the chance I've been waiting for. You'll help me get in, won't you?"

"Now listen, Rosie—" Don's tone was faintly exasperated. "I knew you wouldn't fail me," she interrupted. "You're my own darling and of course you'll help me." Her voice fairly dripped with ingratiating sweetness.

"Honestly I'd like to, Rosie. You know I've always helped you in the past, but I have no drag with Baker."

"Don't be silly, Don." Out of the corner of her eye Pats saw the brilliant Rosie cross the room and perch herself on the arm of Don's chair. A consuming fury suddenly possessed Pats. "Don, darling," Rosie cooed, with her cheeks pressed to his. "You wouldn't let me down. All I need is an introduction to Baker."

"Sorry, Rosie." He disengaged her clinging arms and got to his feet.

"Look," he went on—it was obviously a last stand—"I got you a place in the pictures when you came to me in Hollywood. That was my chance."

"But I was lonely without you." She laid her bright, smooth head on his shoulder. "They weren't nice to me, Don," she said patetically.

Pats heard Don heave a great sigh, knew that he had lost the battle.

He thrust his hands into his trouser pockets with a gesture of futility. "I suppose so," he sighed. "Some lovely place." She caroled rapturously. "I want to walk in and have people stare at me and wonder who the girl is with Don Monteray. I have a duck of a gown, Don. You'll be proud of me."

He was edging her toward the door.

"I'm in 1014. Come down in about an hour." With a wave of her white hand she was gone.

Pats said, "If you'll sign these letters, Mr. Monteray—I'm sorry to be so late."

Don passed his hand over his handsome head. "Oh-h," he muttered, "is there no limit?" He threw out his arms in a helpless, half-comical gesture. "I'm in for it," he stated. "Let the letters go till tomorrow, d'you mind?"

"CERTAINLY, Mr. Monteray." Pats cleared her desk and prepared to depart. Don dropped into a chair, seemed inclined to talk.

"When I was a kid in Missouri, Rosie's father was our yard man. They lived in a cottage on the place. I used to play with the boys. Akers was a fine old chap..." He frowned thoughtfully. "I don't remember Rosie in those days; she says she was a mere baby. I would have sworn there was only one girl, older. She would have been about 27 or 28 now..."

To herself Pats said, "That's Rosie. Men are so easily fooled." Don talked on moodily. "My mother was awfully good to them, we all were, and when Rosie appeared in Hollywood I turned heaven and earth to help her. I guess I started something," he ended with a rueful shrug.

FORD STRIKERS GIVEN SUPPORT

RICHMOND, Calif., May 29.—(UP)—An embargo was applied to Ford motor cars due for shipment abroad today when maritime unions threw their support to strikers from the Ford assembly plant here.

The newly assembled Fords were branded "hot cargo" and left behind when the freighter S. S. West Cape of the McCormick line sailed for Seattle.

The presence of 1800 army trucks, due for shipment to Japan and considered "war material," raised a more serious aspect. International Longshoremen's association workers said they, too, were "hot cargo."

The Ford company faced a penalty in price if the trucks were not delivered on time.

The Ford plant strikers demand recognition of the United Automobile Workers of America, an affiliate of the Committee For Industrial Organization. They have tied up the plant where 1500 men worked.

The strike was called Wednesday and Clarence Bulwinkle, plant manager, said he still had not been approached with any demands.

A new faction, represented by the Automobile Employees Association of Richmond met last night. The A. E. A. is backed by the International Association of Machinists, an American Federation of Labor affiliate. E. H. Vernon, business agent for the machinists, said 800 of the 1500 employees of the Ford plant had authorized the machinists union to represent them, and if he could obtain the pledges of these 800 he would appeal to the National Labor Relations board to determine whether his group or the C. I. O. faction should represent workers at the plant.

FORD INVESTIGATOR OFF FOR COAST SUNDAY

DETROIT, May 29.—(UP)—Pat Smith, investigator for the Ford service department, will fly to the west coast Sunday to inquire into the labor situation at the Richmond, Calif., Ford plant.

FOUR MORTICIANS UNDER SUSPENSION

OAKLAND, Calif., May 29.—(UP)—Four morticians were under suspension by the state board of funeral directors and embalmers today for asserted unethical practices.

They were charged with burying indigent dead persons naked in unlined caskets, with conducting burials without death certificates, with the use of "indecent and profane language in the presence of dead human bodies during funeral services," and with operating without sufficient equipment.

The Hogle and Byrne Funeral Parlor, Inc., of Yuba City and Marysville, were ordered suspended for one month. They were charged with burying unclothed bodies in violation of a Yuba county ordinance.

The license of Lawrence F. Otis, embalmer, and secretary-treasurer of the company, was ordered suspended.

The board ordered cancellation of the director's licenses of W. R. Jefford & Son, Grass Valley and Nevada; funeral directors, holding that they did not have sufficient equipment.

A formal complaint was ordered filed against the Russell Funeral Home, Inc., at Lakeport, on charges that fraudulent claims were made to clients and indecent language used at funerals.

CALLING all DOGS

By Albert Payson Terhune

TAKING A FOOLISH RISK

A Denver reader, A. R., writes me that his last four dogs have died from distemper, and asks why. He says he bought a dog at once to replace the first of these victims. It died of the same malady. So did his next dog; and his next. To me, as to any other dogman, there is no mystery at all in this.

If a man should die of virulent smallpox, and if his room and his bed and sheets were then used, undisinfected, the next user would be in grave peril of smallpox. A dog dies from distemper, the most infectious of diseases. Its owner brings home a new dog, to occupy the living quarters of the first animal. It would be a miracle if the newcomer escaped infection.

When your dog dies (or recovers) from distemper, destroy all his bedding and everything else he has used, including his kennel. Then disinfect the whole place thoroughly. Wait for some weeks before buying another dog. Meantime, repeat the disinfecting several times. Also disinfect any clothes you may have worn while you were nursing his predecessor. Otherwise you are extremely liable to lose the new dog, as you lost the old. (Copyright 1937, McNaught Syn.)

LATE NEWS OF ORANGE

SCHOOL HOLDS EXHIBIT AND OPEN HOUSE

ORANGE, May 29.—A large number of parents and friends of the Intermediate school attended the open house and school exhibit, which began Thursday afternoon and closed Friday evening.

Garments made in the sewing classes were shown in the sewing room, while the main part of the exhibit was on display in the auditorium. Desks, benches, magazine racks, tables and shoe shine boxes were made by boys of the wood working class, and metal casts of figures by the forge class.

Stories, poems, history work, art and maps were all shown, as well as collections of sea shells, model mining camp, oil derrick and samples of the kinds of oil found in California.

Friday afternoon in place of the regular school assembly, several girls from the six-one class visited the rooms, modeling dresses and coats made by the sewing classes. Patsey Showalter was the announcer, and the following were models: Carol Purcell, Gloria Seaman, Grace Doyle, Norma Higgin, Mary Lou Laming, Vanola Gates, Carolyn Hager, Doris Mackel and Myrth Stinson. Mrs. Blanche Brown is teacher of the group. Superintendent of Schools C. I. Thomas and Principal Don Danner together with other teachers of the school were present to explain the work.

U. S. A. Club In Meeting At Fishback Home

ORANGE, May 29.—Guest day of the U. S. A. club took the form of a daintily appointed tea Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mason M. Fishback, the hostess assisted by Mrs. Walter Lovell.

Tea was served by the hostess and assistant from a tea table covered with a lace cloth over yellow satin, centered by flowers in pastel shades and yellow tapers.

High school students gave a musical program, introduced by Mrs. Earl G. Wood. John La Monica sang "Little Old Lady," and Joan ne Allen, "Still Is the Night," while Everett Ristow gave a solo, "Three For Jack," Grace Marie sang "Carissima." A string trio amde up of Blanche Patton, Barbara Robinson and Mrs. Margaret Ockels played several numbers. More than 60 were present.

QUINTUPLETS DISCUSSED BY CLUB SECTION

ORANGE, May 29.—The usual meeting of the Second Toastmasters section of the Orange Woman's club was held yesterday at the clubhouse. Toastmaster for the day was Mrs. J. D. Hayes.

Responses for the day were varied, as the members were allowed to choose their own. Subjects for these table responses were mostly on the topics of the recent coronation and the birthday of the Dionne quintuplets.

During the business session the program for the Mother's club was planned for a year ahead. The installation of officers, which will be held at the home of Mrs. M. L. Reed, was also discussed. Mrs. Reed invited the members of the section to her home for a breakfast meeting instead of the usual luncheon meeting.

The talk and book review, which are the main features of the meetings were given by Mrs. Arthur Sipherd and Mrs. E. D. Workman. Mrs. Sipherd spoke on "Modern Youth" and Mrs. Workman gave a book review on "How to Make Friends and Influence People."

Twelve members were present. They were: Miss Fanny Haberler, Mesdames Adelaide Adair, L. E. Finley, J. D. Hayes, Arthur Hodson, Alfred Leech, Bertha Neale, M. M. Peterson, A. Sipherd, E. D. Workman, Amy Palmer and L. E. Douglass.

Country Club Plays For Title

BY HARRY GRAYSON
(Sports Editor, NEA Service)

STARS GO INTO LEAD AS CUBS SPANK BILERS

NATIONAL NIGHT BALL LEAGUE

Santa Ana today boomed into first place in the National Night Ball league.

The Stars have outfooted even the mighty Huntington Beach Oilers, who got it in the neck from Orange (6-3) last night, while Santa Ana was outlasting San Bernardino at the Municipal Bowl, 4 to 2.

Playing to the smallest house of the season—only the real old dyed-in-the-wool riskers themselves in the mist—Santa Ana and San Bernardino traveled 11 innings before "Chuck" Comstock, the Anaheim outcast, broke it up with a bounding single to center.

It was anybody's ball game until then.

Coots Promotes Winning Run

"Nan" Coots promoted the winning run, just as he did the tying one in the eighth. First up in the eleventh, he rifled a single to left and stole second while Venn Botts was fanning Young and Koral.

Comstock's hit brought him around. Previously Comstock gave San Bernardino the lead after four fruitless innings. He shot a car fifth and raced all the way home when "Squirrel" Gilhouse, the Ponys' eccentric center fielder, let the ball get away from him. Bob Mott followed with a single to left that Ed Daley also allowed to roll past. Mott got as far as third, failing to score then and there only because he fell rounding the base. However, he tallied a minute later while Strain was throwing out "Doc" Smith.

Kelley's triple to left and Shad-dux's fly to center gave San Bernardino a 2-1 tally in the sixth.

Watson, Botts Swat Homers

The Ponys had been peppering long flies off cagy old Earl Morrill all evening and two of 'em finally dropped into the left field bleachers in the seventh, putting San Bernardino ahead, 3-2. Wayne Watson's was first. Then Botts duplicated. Both balls just cleared Denney's upstretched glove as they soared into the stands.

Coots tied the score at three-all in the eighth. With two away, he whaled a liner to center that Gilhouse tried to hold to a double with a one-handed stab. The ball shot under his glove and Coots ran it into a home run.

Summary

Pitcher Roger Larimer

Home runs—Botts, Coots.

Touched for 17 assorted base-knocks, Larimer bore down in the pinches and his fielders came up with sensational catches to protect Orange's edge garnered off "Fuzz" Errington, starting Oiler gunner. Orange only collected 8 hits, one off of "Chico" Sabella, but bunched them in the third and seventh innings for all its runs.

Sabella's 27-inning scoreless streak was stopped when Larry Leichtfuss scored from third on Richardson's long fly for the final Orange run.

Huntington Beach left stranded 18 baserunners, filling the bases to no avail in the first, fifth and eighth. The score:

Distributing eight hits into as many innings, Jack Dugan hurled Westminster to a 6-0 shutout over Colton.

The Aviators bunched hits for three runs in the fifth, picked up two on Fritz Gunther's long double in the sixth, and another in the eighth when Wallin doubled and tallied on an error. The score:

500 ON THE FLY!

Screaming down the stretch in the 500-mile automobile race at the Indianapolis Speedway; Lou Meyer, lower left, the only three-time winner who is out to make it four, May 31; and Harry MacQuinn, lower right, homegrown driver at the wheel of the car with which he averaged better than 126 miles per hour unofficially in practice.

INDIANAPOLIS—Goodbye, again.

That's what the 1936 records for the annual 500-mile automobile race at the Indianapolis Speedway are saying after hearing the whining motors tune up and seeing them qualify for the Silver Anniversary edition Monday.

Even the more conservative drivers have gone over to the speedier side since the tang of fast competition started to dominate the atmosphere.

Official records established in qualifying and unofficial marks set in practice attest that this renewal of the speed show will be epoch-making.

In a test run, a half dozen watches caught Jimmy Snyder of Chicago for one lap at 131.6 miles an hour, the fastest time in the history of the Hoosier bricks. Wild Bill Cummings, homegrown pilot did 125.139 on the last lap of his pole-winning qualifying trial.

Harry MacQuinn, another Indianapolis driver, averaged better than 126 miles an hour in practice.

Snyder, MacQuinn, and Cummings have the fastest cars on the oval.

The largest sports crowd in the history of this country—160,000 persons—attended the mad whirl in Indianapolis a year ago. The ticket sale this trip has run 50 per cent ahead of 1936, so it also is fairly safe to predict an all-time record for attendance.

TURNS RESURFACED

Resurfacing the turns in a large degree accounts for the increased speed, and with maximum safety.

Lifting of the gasoline allowance has been a decided factor in upping the ante.

All the fuel desired is permitted. The only provision is that it be commercial stock gasoline—available at any filling station. Cars handicapped last spring because of fuel shortage now are literally flying. Motor experts say the mounts will run longer and smoother with the regular fuel than they did with specially prepared mixtures of the past.

This means closer competition, more bunching of cars, and a great many more still in the thick of things at the finish.

As heretofore 33 cars will take the lineup. They are being selected by elimination speed trials from a list of 55 entries.

First money is $20,000 from the Speedway Corporation, with lap and special prizes bringing the winner's purse to around $40,000.

Dick Merrill, the trans-Atlantic flyer, is the official starter.

Louis Meyer, only three-time winner, qualified with the fastest time he ever turned in—119.619 miles an hour, and with his car running at this speed must be figured a serious threat to make it a four-time triumph.

Kelly Pettito, 1935 winner, has come out of retirement.

TWO FOREIGN CARS

There are two foreign cars in the scramble—an Alfa Romeo piloted by slender Rex Mays of Glen-dale, pole winner in 1935 and '36, and a Maserati driven by Babe Stapp of Dallas.

Pastor Reveals Nestell As Mediocre Fighter, Taking Ten Rounds In Succession

BY JACK CUDDY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—Another one-sided brawl was the proof of Nestell's mediocrity.

Only once did Nestell threaten last night. That was when he floored Pastor for no-count in the electrifying first round. Pastor had smashed Nestell to the canvas for the toll of eight with a straight right to the chin. When the groggy Californian rose, Pastor swarmed over him. In the melee, Uestell lashed out with a short right uppercut that caught the New Yorker on the jaw and tumbled him backwards to the canvas.

Nestell Staggers Up

Again in the third round, Nestell hit the deck when caught flush on the mouth with a straight right. Sitting on the canvas with one leg twisted under him, it seemed for a time that Nestell would not rise this time. But he was up as Roth yelled "eight" in his face. From then on, it was just a question of the Californian's ability to last the distance. Again and again, Pastor staggered him. In the seventh, Nestell's head was knocked under the top ring rope. He narrowly averted falling into the press seats.

At the finish, Nestell was bleeding from a gash over his left eye, a cut right eyelid and from his nose and mouth. Pastor, whose pale face and white body contrasted sharply with Nestell's bronze, was virtually unmarked.

Glenn Lee, rugged, hard-hitting Nebraska welterweight, proved himself a genuine menace to Barney Ross' 147-pound crown by smashing out a 10-round decision over rugged Izzy Jannazzo, a New York "cutie" who made Ross look bad, not so long ago.

In another scheduled 10-rounder, Henry Armstrong, Los Angeles Negro claimant of the world featherweight title, scored a technical knockout over Wally Hally in the fourth round.

The crowd which braved a chilly, drizzling night and contributed a gross gate of $70,560—hoping to see Nestell crash into the championship fight picture—was disappointed. But there was not a dissenting voice at the decision. The native son had been thoroughly beaten.

Jimmy Johnston Jr., Pastor's manager, says that this victory should entitle the former New York university footballer to a challenger's heavyweight title, in case the New York commission vacates Jimmy Braddock's crown. But most experts believe there is little chance of this, because all three New York commissioners witnessed Pastor's flight from Joe Louis. Hence, the only significant angle to last night's

Pastor Takes Every Round

The United Press score sheet showed Pastor won every one of the 10 rounds. Referee Abe Roth, a Los Angeles furniture dealer, raised the New Yorker's right arm in token of victory. He gave Pastor seven rounds, Nestell only one—the eighth—and called two even.

Jockey Summers Near Death After Fall At Meadows

OAKLAND, May 29.—Danny Summers, 23, race horse jockey, who was injured seriously when thrown from his mount, Black Board, in the races at Bay Meadows yesterday, was reported to be in a critical condition today.

Hospital attendants said that he suffered a fractured skull and held little hope for his recovery.

His horse, also injured in the fall, was shot by the owners.

CALIFORNIA TO SPOT S. A. SIX HOLE HANDICAP

They were polishing up the $2700 Peter Cooper Bryce trophy today because this handsome silver shield, emblematic of the inter-team golf championship of Southern California, may take a trip tomorrow night.

Santa Ana meets the California Country club of Los Angeles for both the trophy and the title at 1 p. m., playing over the neutral course at San Gabriel. California is the defending champion.

It is the second time the two teams have met in the finals. California defeated the Santa Anas by half-a-point in the series of 1935, closest in the history of the playoffs.

Santa Ana has a remarkable record in the inter-club matches. Captain Garland Ross' men reached the semi-finals in '31, lost to California in the finals of '32, won the Southern California championship from Palos Verdes in '34, lost to Virginia in the semi-finals of '35. They were eliminated in their own league last year when California went on to the championship.

This season, Santa Ana finished in front of Red Hills, Redlands and Mountain Meadows in its own group, then won from San Diego and Virginia in the playoffs. California led Oakmont, Hillcrest and Hollywood in its league, and eliminated Lakeside and San Gabriel in the quarter-finals and semi-finals.

Dr. Ross will string along with the lineup that has carried Santa Ana through all its matches to date, lining up with Dick Ewert and Jack Robertson, Ed Holmes and Bill Foote, Ted Burkett and A. W. Robinson, Ray Chapman and Harold Wright, E. E. Wilson and Ben Manker, Elmer Curry and J. K. McDonald, and W. C. Fletcher and Homer Robinson. Santa Ana will get a six-hole handicap allowance.

Ewert, Foote, Robertson, A. W. Robinson, Burkett, McDonald, Wilson and Manker practiced at San Gabriel yesterday. The course was wet and heavy; scores were only fair.

California's lineup is Fred Hopkins and Nick Petropoli, both three-handicap men; Lloyd Shaw and Claude Foote, J. N. Hicks and H. Earnest, D. B. O'Keefe and Sammy Hill, Dr. Clarence Beebe and H. O. Ward, Joe Call and Dr. T. E. Seddon, C. R. Erb and Ray Hiniker.

GOLF ENTRY BREAKS U. S. 'OPEN' RECORD

NEW YORK, May 29.—A record field of 1404—up by 127 than last year's all time high—is entered in the U. S. Open golf tournament to be played June 10-12 in Birmingham, Mich. The U. S. Golf association announced today.

The field for the tournament will be brought down to that figure Tuesday when qualifying rounds are completed at 30 points.

Already 40 places have been decided—32 by exemption and eight by qualifying rounds on May 17 in the state of Washington and California sections.

Exempt players numbered 33 but one, Zell Eaton of Oklahoma City, did not enter. He was one of the 32 low men in last year's tournament. The 33rd exemption is Al Watrous, who, as professional of the club entertaining the tournament, is exempt.

In addition to Watrous, the exempt are: Harry Cooper, Clarence Clark, MacDonald Smith, Henry Picard, Willy Cox, Ky Laffoon, Ralph Guidahl, Paul Runyon and Danny Shute, Tom Kerrigan, Ray Mangrum, Herman Barron, John Revolta, Charles Kocis, Frank Moore, Jimmy Thompson, Vic Goggin, Billy Burke, Felix Serafin, Jerry Gianferante, Tommy Armour, Horton Smith, Johnny Farrell, Johnny Goodman, Albert Brosch, Jack Munger, Gene Sarazen, Dick Metz.

The eight who have qualified are Olin Dutra, 1934 open king; Fay Coleman, Fred Morrison, Willie Hunter, Bud Oakley, George Van Elm, Paul Jones and Ted Longworth.

Laffoon was hoping Picard would triumph, so he could meet him in the finals Sunday, which shows you how far ahead Ky figures. The Kentuckian has got himself hypnotized. He thinks he is the greatest match player in the world, and maybe he is. When you can make those shots like Laffoon does, you've got something. Part of it is physical and all other things alike and equal—the guy who won't be beaten, can't be beaten. That is true in baseball, football, golf or tiddie-winks. There is no explanation for it, but it is true.

The guy I am rooting for in this P. G. A. is Tony Manero. He whipped a Goliah in Harry Cooper. If he can do that, he can do anything. I happen to be a confidante of Tony's and I am fond of him. Tony's wife—not that Cuban song—is desperately ill in Massachusetts. Manero's first and last thoughts are of her. Each morning he phones the hospital to inquire how she is convalescing from her mastoid op-

COCHRANE REPORTED GREATLY IMPROVED

NEW YORK, May 29.—A bulletin issued at St. Elizabeth's hospital today said that Mickey Cochrane, manager of the Detroit Tigers, was "much improved and fears of meningitis were about dispelled."

Cochrane was "beamed" accidentally by Pitcher Irving (Bump) Hadley of the New York Yankees last Tuesday.

Wetherell To Begin Title Quest In S. A.

Lewis Wetherell will begin the defense of his National Public Parks singles championship in the Orange county district trials June 5-6. President John Cress of the Santa Ana Tennis club announced today.

Qualifying rules do not force the Santa Anas to play through further, merely demanding that he be supreme in his own home section. By winning here Wetherell will be eligible for the tournament in the east. He won the title in St. Louis last summer.

Margaret L. Auerbach Blair, Southern California champion and a semi-finalist in last year's National event, also will play through the women's district event. The Orange county district event, the women's matches are not scheduled until June 13, coming the same day as women's doubles, mixed doubles and men's doubles.

Wetherell's chief opposition is expected from "Hoots" Chilson of Anaheim, Toby White of Santa Ana, Gerald Boege of Fullerton and Bob Peacock of Laguna Beach. Mildred Ward of Santa Ana, Katherine Wood of Fullerton and Melva Roquet of Anaheim threaten Mrs. Blair.

SWEENEY WINS BRITISH GOLF

BY HARRY PERCY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SANDWICH, Eng., May 29.—Robert Sweeney, Jr., an American who lives in London, today won the British amateur golf championship, defeating Lionel Munn of County Cork, Ireland, 3 and 2, in the 36-hole final match.

The 25-year-old stock broker who has lived in London since he was 16, led virtually all the way over the Irish veteran who is twice Sweeney's age.

Sweeney succeeds 23-year-old Hector Thomson of Scotland, who, upon his doctor's suggestion, did not defend.

Because Sweeney is an American, technically the title can be said to have returned to the United States for the first time since Lawson Little, now a professional, made a successful defense in 1935. Sweeney calls London his home, however.

Sweeney won the first hole and stayed ahead until the 22nd—the fourth of the afternoon round—where Munn leveled the match. Munn led at the 23rd when Sweeney was short of the green, but Sweeney won the 24th on Munn's bunkered shot, went one up at the 25th where Munn was short, and was always on the up side from that point onward.

The match ended dramatically. Sweeney was two up as they came to the tee of the short 34th hole. Each found the green and was about 25 feet from the pin. Munn was slightly away. He carefully lined up his putt and just barely missed the cup. Sweeney was even more deliberate. He ran straight to the cup and the Oxford graduate was the new British amateur champion.

PITTSBURGH, May 29.—Come into the locker room of the Pittsburgh Field club with me. The victors are exulting. The vanquished are licking their wounds. We have the prizes and mortified of the Professional Golf association's tourney here! Let us listen to what they say as they stumble out from the showers and gloat or groan:

Byron Nelson, winner of the Masters' tourney at Augusta, opines "I had a hunch I should not have come out here this morning. I knew damn well Ky Laffoon was going to lick me. I've never beaten him yet. There is no reason to think I will, because every time I meet Ky he is sizzling hot." Laffoon interrupted "I beat a great golfer when I stopped Byron. I don't know how I did it, but I did it and that is what they say off on."

Laffoon was hoping Picard would triumph, so he could meet him in the finals Sunday, which shows you how far ahead Ky figures. The Kentuckian has got himself hypnotized. He thinks he is the greatest match player in the world, and maybe he is. When you can make those shots like Laffoon does, you've got something. Part of it is physical and all other things alike and equal—the guy who won't be beaten, can't be beaten. That is true in baseball, football, golf or tiddie-winks. There is no explanation for it, but it is true.

The guy I am rooting for in this P. G. A. is Tony Manero. He whipped a Goliah in Harry Cooper. If he can do that, he can do anything. I happen to be a confidante of Tony's and I am fond of him. AMERICA GETS WINNING START IN CUP SERIES

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., May 29.—Donald Budge of California sent America off to a winning start in the North American zone Davis Cup final tie today by beating Jack Crawford, ace of the crippled Australian tennis team, 6-1, 6-3, 6-2.

Budge, who had needed five sets to subdue the dark-haired, sharp-featured Australian in the opening match of a similar series last year at Philadelphia, was the master throughout and handled Crawford one of the worst defeats of his career.

Crawford actually beat himself, for 84 of the points which Budge won were unearned.

Budge kept the 29-year-old veteran on the run from start to finish. He aced Crawford six times; he caught him flat-footed at the net with smashing drives to the baseline area when Crawford tried to go to the net Don collared him there.

A crowd of approximately 9000 sitting in the sun-baked concrete bowl of the West Side Tennis club, saw Budge's triumph.

In the second match of the series Bryan (Bity) Grant of Atlanta played John Bromwich, 18-year-old star. It was the first important Davis Cup assignment for both. Bromwich was pressed into service when Adrian Quast became ill.

Vivian McGrath, Australia's No. 1 reserve man, also was ill. He still is suffering from the effects of an infection he received recently in Mexico City for an injured leg. It was said by Clifford Sproule, Australia's non-playing captain, that McGrath probably would pair tomorrow with Crawford in doubles.

SPEEDWAY CRASHES TAKE LIVES OF TWO

INDIANAPOLIS, May 29.—Helmets, goggles drivers wheeled their streamlined racers onto Indianapolis' speedway to attempt to qualify for Monday's 500-mile race on the brick-lined oval where two persons were killed in crashes yesterday.

George Warford, 37, a spectator, was killed when the car driven by Overton Phillips caught fire and crashed into a brick retaining wall. Albert Opsko, mechanic for Frank McGurk, died when their car plunged out of control into the southwest turn.

PLEDGES GIVEN FORD COMPANY

DETROIT, May 29.—(UP)—Ford Motor company officials said today that they had 60,000 workers' "loyalty pledges". The company disputed a claim of the United Automobile Workers' union that Ford employees were signing union membership cards at the rate of "one a minute".

Harry Bennett, chief of the Ford service department, announced that many of the pledges expressed belief that the company should "stand pat against the union".

Bennett said the union could "distribute all the literature it wants to so long as it remains away from Ford property".

Homer Martin, union president, said another attempt to distribute union handbills would be made next week. The first attempt resulted Wednesday in a fight between union organizers and Ford workers.

Wayne County Prosecutor Duncan McCrea asked Bennett to produce, for questioning, Charles Grundish, Michael Delin and Stanley Perry, who told Melvindale, Mich., police that they were Ford service department workers.

"These three, I am informed," said McCrea in a letter to Bennett, "chased newspaper photographers at a speed of 70 miles per hour, apparently in an effort to seize photographic prints of the disorders, and forced the newspapers to seek help in the Melvindale police station."

PATROLMAN HELD ON MURDER COUNT

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—(UP)—Patrolman W. H. Redding today was charged with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Norman W. (Big Bill) Gregg, longshoreman, Thursday at Los Angeles harbor.

The complaint was issued by Deputy District Attorney George Stahlman after high police officials had refused to arrest Redding at the prosecutor's request.

The killing of Gregg, following what was reported as a cafe brawl, was made an issue yesterday at a mass meeting of more than 3,000 union men in the Wilmington bowl, which demanded Redding's arrest and prosecution.

Stahlman issued the complaint as he conferred with three attorneys representing the International Longshoremen's association, to which Gregg belonged. The lawyers had come to his office demanding immediate action.

Also in Stahlman's office were two women, Mabel Brown and Marcello Harding, who were said to have been eye-witnesses to the shooting.

CONSIDER ACTION AGAINST REPORTER

WASHINGTON, May 29.—(UP)—The board of governors of the National Press club today considered whether formal action should be taken against one of its members as a result of allegations that he circulated false and misleading information as to the health of President Roosevelt, a fellow member of the club.

Press club officials said the member appeared before the board of governors earlier in the week at the board's invitation and submitted a voluntary statement concerning the incident.

Action of the Press club coincided with a ruling by the White House Correspondents' association barring from press conferences of the president after July 1 all persons disseminating so-called confidential information for profit directly or indirectly.

SENATE APPROVES JUDGES' PENSION

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 29.—(UP)—Important measures approved today by the senate include proposals to retire judges at 70 and require that 30 per cent of the men employed on state public works projects be 45 years of age or older.

The judges' retirement plan contemplated a pension system to be created by contributions amounting to five per cent of the judges' salaries, furnished equally by judges and the state. The plan would extend to all supreme, appellate and superior judges.

Other final action. Acceptance of a free conference committee report recommending a bill limiting small loan companies to an interest charge of two per cent a month on loans up to $500 and one per cent on loans higher than $500.

Passage of a bill prohibiting the sale, in California, of goods manufactured by child labor.

Approval of a measure to pay $35 a month to needy persons 18 or over who are permanently disabled.

Passage of a bill to permit bank employees to be included in the state unemployment insurance act provided the federal government changes the law to meet this provision.

MAN KILLED BY COVER OFF SEWER

CHICAGO, May 29.—(UP)—A heavy manhole cover, tossed like a tiddler by a subterranean sewer gas explosion, arched high in the air, plummeted through a skylight of a five story building and killed a man in an elevator today.

The victim was Alpha C. Day, 60. William Peterson was injured slightly.

Manhole covers along a five block stretch on Fullerton avenue were blown off. No one else along the busy street, crowded with motorists and pedestrians, was injured.

Smoke poured from the manholes for several moments, but there was no fire.

MAN IS BURNED
Phil DeSmet, 1400 Polinetta received first and second degree burns on both hands and his right leg yesterday afternoon when a pot of tar boiled over, according to firemen, who responded to an alarm. The firemen gave first aid. A trash fire sent firemen to 512 West Third street, yesterday. There was no damage.

Oddities In Today's News Items

OLATHE, Kans., May 29.—(UP)—Kansans already have found a use for their new 2 per cent sales tax tokens, which do not go into general circulation until Tuesday. Gene Green, a jobber who uses vending machines to distribute his wares, reported today that he took 480 zinc 2 mill tokens from 10 candy and cigaret machines.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 29.—(UP)—Herbert Knoke and Mrs. May Boswell will have to set up their funeral home and cemetery for pets outside the city limits. City attorneys pointed out there was an old law which read: "The carcass of a dead animal shall be removed from within the city limits within an hour after death."

SANTA MONICA, Cal., May 29.—(UP)—There are times, it seems, when it doesn't pay to advertise. May 19 two bandits held up a Wilshire boulevard liquor store here, taking $90, but overlooking another $55 in the cash register. The clerk told police about the oversight, and police told the newspapers. Early today the same pair returned. Said one, "We've come back for that $55, and this time we want everything there is." They cleared out the cash register down to the last nickel, $200 in all and Ken Arnold, clerk, who had reported the former robbery, again told the police.

CATHOLICS' STRIKE IN MEXICO SPREADS

NOGALES, Son., Mex., May 29.—(UP)—Reports at this border town today were that Sonora Catholics "kneel down" strike to force reopening of their churches was spreading to other towns in the state.

A band of strikers remained in the church here, which they forced open Thursday night at the climax of a demonstration demanding that the Mexican federal government formally permit the churches, closed during the regime of President Plutarco Elias Calles, to resume services.

After they were married he took her to live in an unsuitable room at the florist shop. And she discovered he had been married and was the father of a child. She charges fraud in the annulment suit. She is 20 now.

TRAINMAN KILLED
SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 29.—(UP)—A misstep that threw him under the wheels of a train cost the life last night of Benedetto Chirarducci, 53, veteran Southern Pacific mail train foreman. Chirarducci was working on a car which was switching in the yards when he faltered and was hurled under the train.

SEEK COMPROMISE VIEWS OF F. D. R.

WASHINGTON, May 29.—(UP)—House leaders decided today to ask President Roosevelt personally to determine whether to accept a compromise proposal on the $1,500,000,000 relief bill, of which $505,000,000 was tentatively earmarked for specific expenditures despite White House objections.

House Majority Leader Sam Rayburn said he planned to see Mr. Roosevelt in an effort to settle the dispute over the relief measure before the president leaves tonight for Hyde Park, N. Y.

Under the proposed compromise, $223,000,000 of the relief appropriation would be earmarked for flood control, public works and road building expenditures instead of the $505,000,000 set aside by a rebellious house in sessions earlier in the week.

The house is scheduled to act on the relief bill at its session next Tuesday.

Los Angeles To Laguna Air Line Launched

LAGUNA BEACH, May 29.—(UP)—Aviation service between Los Angeles and Laguna Beach, and vice-versa, is being tried out. A. J. Dewey, transport pilot, with a bright-red Stinson four-seater, has already made several passenger-carrying flights between the two cities. The local landing field is at South Laguna, where the terrain is more favorable for prearranged landings. No definite schedule of flights or rates has been arranged, the Dewey service being at present on a charter basis. Several Hollywood writers, directors and executives have already made use of the service, which will, Dewey says, be expanded and extended as need arises.

International Friendship Night Planned

ANAHEIM, May 29.—International Friendship night will be celebrated at the White Temple Methodist church tomorrow at two meetings.

At 6 p. m., Miss Marguerite Twinn, Anaheim woman who is home on furlough from missionary work in China, will speak on "Life on the Good Earth and What Christianity Has Done There." Miss Twinn has been in China for six years, teaching near Tien Sin and Changli at the Alderman Methodist Missionary.

At 7 p. m., regular services will be devoted to the International Friendship Night program, with the congregation of the Japanese Free Methodist church meeting in a body with the White Temple congregation. The White Temple junior choir and the fifth and sixth grades from the Fountain Valley church will assist.

Opening the 7 o'clock service will be the procession, "Follow the Glean" with J. J. Coleman leading two hymns and the Rev. W. Grant Smith leading in prayer. After a number, "We're a Story to Tell," by the church junior choir, Warren Schutz will bring "Friendship greetings." Ruth Watanabe, Martha Kitoaka, Nancy Watanabe, Bessie Morimoto and Grace Morimoto will sing "Fairer Lord Jesus" as an offertory number.

Following Margaret Perry's presentation of "Friends," Betty Giesler will play as a piano solo, "Fairyland Music." Elvira Gonzales, Cedro Rivalcabo, Frances Rivalcabo, Dorothy Adams and Jessie Perry, the latter playing the guitar, will sing Mexican songs, and Mrs. Nellie Adams will give a Mexican message.

Martha Kitoaka will give "In the Garden" as a flute solo, to be followed by a Japanese hymn sung by Tomiye Otsu, Suzuki Sekiguchi, Fumiko Kato and Teruko Arita. The Rev. Ray Y. Miyokoda, new pastor of the Japanese Free Methodist church, will give the Japanese message.

As a dust number, Martha Kitoaka and Ruth Watanabe will sing "Whispering Hope." Masayuki Tamura will play "America" on the harmonica. Naomi Ochi plans a tribute to "Our Soldiers" and the Friendship circle will present "In the Garden." The benediction by Rev. Miyokoda follows the next number, a reading, "Somebody's Mother" by Evelyn Hillebrand.

Alma Ruth, who served as pianist and director of the junior choir with Elizabeth Bowler, organist and Leila Brown, violinist.

REVEAL KING'S TITLE BATTLE

LONDON, May 29.—(UP)—The United Press was informed tonight by an unimpeachable source that King George VI fought a bitter but losing battle against former Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin in an effort to obtain the title "her royal highness" for Mrs. Wallis Warfield.

The king pledged his brother, before Edward VII's abdication, that he would intervene personally to obtain the coveted H. R. H. letters before her name. He did his best to fulfill the pledge.

It was only after members of the royal family, high dignitaries of the church, and a powerful group of parliament had joined with Baldwin that the king was forced to yield.

So bitter did the quarrel become that members of the royal family finally pleaded with the king that it would be dangerous to attempt to force the issue longer.

The specific argument which caused the king to yield was one that pointed out that the abdication act specifically deprived Edward of the dignity of the H. R. H. title himself. This normally would have been an automatic courtesy title but the act eliminated it.

Consequently when the king issued letters patent conferring the H. R. H. title on Edward after he had become the Duke of Windsor it was with the understanding that Mrs. Warfield should be specifically excluded after this marriage.

On interpretation of this was that the duke himself would have lost the title had he fought to obtain it for Mrs. Warfield been pressed longer.

YOUTH, 19, GETS ONE-MONTH TERM

Guy Taylor, 19, Huntington Park youth, held guilty by Justice Kenneth Morrison after a trial on vagrancy charges.

Orange county jail today for a one-month term. Five months of a six-month term were suspended.

Taylor, companion of Robert Lee Walker, 18, Long Beach, when Walker was arrested for traveling 70 miles per hour in a borrowed car on Santa Ana boulevard, claimed he had nothing to do with borrowing the car and with the speed. He also claimed he had a job in Huntington Park and therefore was not a vagrant. Walker had borrowed the car from a local used car dealer "on trial," and had failed to give his right name, according to testimony.

Walker was sent to county jail for six months.

Police News

A $95 radio and 95 cents in cash were stolen by a burglar who entered the Chester Paige home, 611 South Flower street, he reported to police yesterday. Officer Hunter Leach is investigating.

J. A. Walsh, Townsend club leader, asked police protection yesterday, reporting that cars parked near the Fourth street Townsend headquarters had been tampered with during recent meetings. Officers will patrol the area during meetings.

Upon report of a St. Joseph hospital attendant that a man was bothering children on Lacy street last night, city police arrested and jailed Sam Rorer, 58, cook of San Francisco, on a drunk charge. He was arrested at Fourth and French streets.

City police were wondering this afternoon whether Mrs. Will Kuebler, 1516 West First, has or hasn't her black cow back. At 5:35 a. m., she reported the cow as strayed from home. At 5:55 a. m., Mrs. W. A. Butterfield, 1115 West Myrtle, reported a stray cow in the neighborhood of Chestnut and Shelton. At 6:05 a. m., Officers C. V. Adams and E. L. Grounds dashed to Chestnut and Shelton. "We couldn't find the cow," they reported.

Glen M. Knox, 29, 513 North Sycamore, was arrested on reckless driving charge by Motorcycle Officers William F. Nielsen and Ed E. Lentz after a four-mile chase from St. Andrews street to the Santa Ana Country club yesterday. The officers reported Knox passed 15 cars at a speed of 80 to 85 miles an hour.

Nine speeders were fined by Judge John G. Mitchell in city court yesterday. The violators were Oliver C. Carrie, Burbank, 119; Walter D. Truman, Long Beach, 56; C. G. Gates, 218 East Cubbon street, 19; Leonard Fields, Los Angeles, 10; Mrs. Pearl Laurence, 824 East Third street, 10; E. E. Crager, Long Beach, 10; Thomas Higgins, Upland, 10; and Lloyd D. Swantz, 1105 Pine street, 10. Swantz also paid $2 for jumping a boulevard stop.

Ellie F. Horton, Orange; Olla Watson, Hynes; Mrs. Ethel B. Chance, Inglewood; Extra A. Wyatt, E. E. Wood, Orange, and Wilton E. Wright, Orange, each were fined $1 for use of glaring lights. Seven parking violators were fined $1.

MAN JAILED AFTER ANAHEIM ACCIDENT

Injured last night in Anaheim when he is alleged to have driven his automobile into a parked car on South Los Angeles street, Ray Apodaca was taken to the county hospital for treatment and later returned to the Anaheim jail.

This morning Apodaca appeared before Police Judge Frank Tausch in Anaheim and pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication and was fined $50 with the alternative of serving 25 days in jail. In lieu of the cash Apodaca was remanded to the county jail. At the hospital it was said that Apodaca had fractured two ribs and received face lacerations.

CATHOLIC PRIESTS IN BERLIN WARNED

BERLIN, May 29.—(UP)—The Catholic bishop of Berlin, Count Konrad Von Preysing, tonight instructed all priests in Berlin not to appear in the streets of the capital until further orders.

The move was the first made by the Catholic dignitary in response to yesterday's bitter attack on the church and Archbishop Cardinal Mundelein by Nazi Propaganda Minister Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels.

Bishop Van Preysing followed it with an order to youth of his diocese to assemble for confession at all Catholic churches on the evening of June 6.

Catholics said they "assumed" that the bishop acted with the knowledge of his superiors in Rome.

PREPARE TO MOVE VALENCIA EMBASSY

WASHINGTON, May 29.—(UP)—The state department is considering moving the temporary American embassy in Spain from Valencia to some place of greater safety, acting Secretary Sumner Wells revealed today.

A definite decision is expected to be reached over the week end. Wells said.

He said officials are seriously concerned over the safety of the embassy staff due to repeated bombing raids on the port city by Spanish nationalist planes.

The temporary embassy was moved to Valencia from Madrid during the height of the insurgent drive on the capital because of fears for the safety of the staff.

LUCK STAYS WITH 2 L. A. SPINSTERS

LOS ANGELES, May 29.—(UP)—Two spinsters had the almost incredible luck to draw a winning ticket in the Irish sweepstakes for the second successive year.

Miss Armenia Smith and Miss Gene Cooney, secretaries, won $2000 last October. Yesterday, a messenger boy came with news that they had drawn a ticket on Cap Hook. Win, lose or stumble, it will bring them $222.

The two women packed their bags and left town immediately.

"We're going away," they said, "so the salesmen can't find us. As veterans, we know they'll beat a steady path to our doors. Good-bye."

The New York Daily Graphic was the first daily newspaper to be illustrated in America, inaugurating its use of pictures in 1873 by means of zinc plate etchings.

CONSIDER NEW CALENDAR PLAN

COLUMBUS, O., May 29.—(UP)—A proposal to adopt a 13 month church calendar was referred to individual presbyteries today by the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A.

The assembly adopted the proposal 132 to 235 but on motion of Dr. Jesse Baird of the theological seminary at San Anselmo, the group voted to refer the question to the presbyteries.

The proposed church calendar would provide for observance of Easter on a fixed date each year. The date proposed was April 8.

To become effective, the calendar proposal must be adopted by a majority of the 275 presbyteries. The matter will be reconsidered by the general assembly in 1938.

A definite trend toward more liberalism was foreseen when the assembly upheld the right of a pastor, whose application for the ministry has been rejected because his theology was regarded as "too liberal" to preach.

The assembly referred to the committee on bills and overtures a resolution protesting passage by congress of any measure that would make the U. S. supreme court or any other court "subservient to the executive or legislative branches of government."

The assembly approved a basic budget for 1937-1938 of $8,000,000. Reports showed all boards began 1937 without a deficit. In addition, about 90 per cent of the churches reported better results from their "every member canvass" this spring over the previous year.

S. F. SELECTED FOR P.-T. A. CONVENTION

PASADENA, Cal., May 29.—(UP)—Delegates to the 38th annual Congress of California Parents and Teachers returned to their homes today, to gather for next year's convention at San Francisco.

The board of managers chose San Francisco for the 1938 meeting place before the meeting adjourned here last night.

Appointments to minor offices, provided by Mrs. R. C. Clark, of Sutter Creek, president, were ratified. They are: Mrs. J. Stewart Moore, Stockton, parliamentarian; Mrs. Walter Knapp, Merced, chairman of the citizens' committee; Mrs. George B. McCormack, Sacramento, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Fred Arth, San Bernardino, student welfare chairman; Mrs. A. M. Drury, Porterville, juvenile protection chairman; Mrs. J. E. Hale, San Diego, second vice president; Mrs. Charles Ernest, Los Angeles, chairman of the membership committee; Mrs. A. W. Paten, Santa Rosa, chairman of the correspondence committee; Mrs. Roy Pratt, San Francisco, elementary extension.

Brother Leo, noted San Francisco Catholic educator, one of the final speakers, criticized parents and teachers for allowing children to grow up with a "judicious opinion of their own importance."

ATTRACTIONS IN LOCAL THEATRES

'ELEPHANT BOY' COMEDY, DRAMA OFFERS THRILL FOR WALKER'S AT WEST COAST

It's news when a group of persons banded together for the express purpose of admiring an author's work, gives 100 per cent endorsement of a motion picture made from one of the author's books. Such a miracle came to pass when the Kipling Society of England gave unqualified approval to the film made in the jungles of India as based upon Kipling's famous "Toomai of the Elephants."

The film, produced by Alexander Korda, is called "Elephant Boy," introducing two new stars, Sabu, 15-year-old Hindu boy mahout, and Iravatha, said to be world's largest elephant. The picture opens today at the West Coast, with a drama-filled expose of the slot-machine racket, "King of Gambling," as second feature.

"Elephant Boy," released through United Artists, retains the flavor and glamour of the original story. It is considered one of the finest pictures appearing here in recent months.

"King of Gambling," Paramount picture, is a racketeering outburst which leaves no punches pulled. It will keep theater fans on seat edge throughout its showing. It will reveal how gang killings develop, how vice kingdoms are built, how politics and gambling can go hand in hand. Paramount took great pains that this valley fured at the slot-machine racket should be a good one; it had Tifany Thayer write the story and then filled the cast with ace players like Akim Tamiroff, "general" who "died at dawn"; Lloyd Nolan, Claire Trevor, Porter Hall, Larry Crabbe, Helen Burgess and a score of others.

The program is completed with latest news and color cartoon.

Use 200 Men To Build Stockade

The building of the stockade into which the wild elephants are herded in the thrilling climax of "Elephant Boy," the Alexander Korda film, is the story of the early unsatisfactory experiments with color have been ironed out and experts are virtually unanimous that perfected processes do not detract from the story of the picture and greatly enhance its appeal.

"Within the past six months, color has taken vast strides forward. Color no longer interferes with the telling of the story, which is the primary motif behind a motion picture," Goldwyn said. "The new third color is subdued and a happy adjunct to motion picture making."

Crosby Weds On Beach At Waikiki

Bing Crosby, Bob Burns and Martha Raye, the trio who made "Rhythm on the Range" one of last year's outstanding comedies with music, are together again in "Waikiki Wedding," a comedy of love and music under tropical skies, which opens tomorrow at Walker's for a four-day stay.

And fun and thrills for the whole family are promised by the second feature, "Penrod and Sam," First National's comedy drama, screened from Booth Tarkington's boyhood story gem. Newsreel and a popular science special are added attractions.

"Waikiki Wedding" features Shirley Ross, Liff Erickson, Miri Rei (Tahitian dancer who sensationed 'em in the Ziegfeld Follies recently), and others. It is the story of "Press Agent" Crosby's efforts to keep "Pineapple Queen" Ross thrilled with the glamour of Hawaii. He does. Bob Burns

Gene Towne and Graham Baker, screen comedy writers, whose names go together like "ham and eggs," because they've been working together so long, wrote "History Is Made at Night," a lively story, starring Charles Boyer and Jean Arthur Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Walker's. The second feature, just as clever, "Step Lively, Jeeves," features Arthur Treacher, Robert Kent and Patricia Ellis furnish the heart interest.

Romance between a dashing head waiter and beautiful American mannequin, with a round trip to Europe and a ship wreck thrown in, forms the theme of "History Is Made at Night." Leo Carrillo, Colin Clive and Ivan Lendeff are among the featured players.

Jeeves, so sad-eyed, so gentle, so utterly, utterly proper, thought gangland to be a bit of all right. They could swindle him, bamboozle him and buffet him about, but he insists on proper manners, and so the underworld is in a daze of a dither when P. G. Wodehouse's famed "gentleman's gentleman" goes berserk for a delightful period of gleeful buffoonery in the second saga of the silly blighter's misadventures. "Step Lively, Jeeves," Alan Dinehart and George Givot are featured. "Mickey Mouse" and newsreel complete the program.

HOLLYWOOD FILM SHOP

By JOHN "SKY" DUNLAP

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, May 29.—(UP)—The spectacular success of the new technicolor picture, "A Star Is Born," apparently has had the effect of convincing Hollywood that the era of black and white pictures is coming to an end.

When such an estimable producer as Samuel Goldwyn announces that all his future pictures will be made in color, there is little doubt but that the rest of the industry will fall into line in short order. Just as sound killed the silent movies, so will color sound the death knell of present non-color films, say enthusiastic supporters of the new color processes.

The early unsatisfactory experiments with color have been ironed out and experts are virtually unanimous that perfected processes do not detract from the story of the picture and greatly enhance its appeal.

"Within the past six months, color has taken vast strides forward. Color no longer interferes with the telling of the story, which is the primary motif behind a motion picture," Goldwyn said. "The new third color is subdued and a happy adjunct to motion picture making."

The veteran producer cited "A Star Is Born," and the unreleased "Vogues of 1938" as proof of the success of the new venture. His pictures to come out in color are "The Golden Poles," a $2,000,000 musical; "The Real Glory," with a background of Manila and the Philippines at the time of the American occupation, and "You Can Be Beautiful," the story of the beauty industry starring Gary Cooper and Marie Oberon.

Goldwyn doubted that the addition of color to the industry would bring about any appreciable change in screen technique.

Housekeepers walk nearly eight miles a day without leaving their homes.

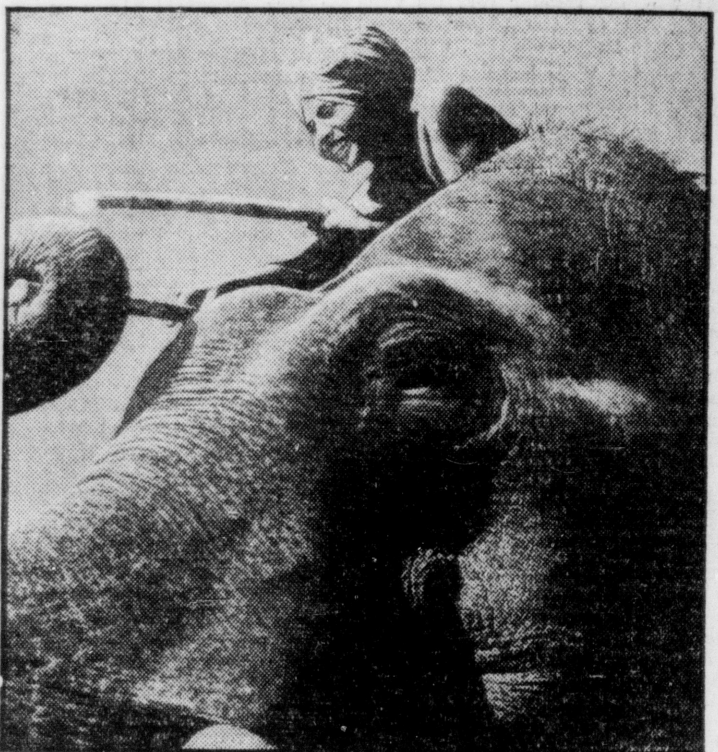

and Martha Raye are lovers in the picture—imagine it!

Penrod is played by the now-famous Billy Mauch. Sam is Harry Watson, also member of the "Junior G-Men of America," who go bandit-hunting with much success. Frank Craven, Spring Byington and Crair Reynolds feature with the youthful adventurers.

Soft melodies from Bing Crosby, laugh-riots by Martha Raye, pictured above, are offered tomorrow at Walker's in "Waikiki Wedding," which stops over for a four-day run. Bob Burns, Shirley Ross and many others make the picture an outstanding one, well worth seeing. Enchantment of the islands is merely but one reason for seeing it. "Penrod and Sam," from the pen of Tarkington is feature No. 2, an adventure tale of youth.

Sabu, handsome native lad from India, and Iravatha, said to be the world's largest elephant, pictured above, appear in "Elephant Boy," the Alexander Korda film at the West Coast, beginning today. The picture is based upon Kipling's famous story, "Toomai of the Elephants."

George Brent and Anita Louise, in "The Go Getter," Cosmopolitan's picturization of Peter B. Kyne's "Cappy Ricks" story, appear to be "that way" about one another in the pose above. They will be at the Broadway, beginning Sunday. They only get "that way" after Charles Winninger, Anita's papa, puts George through a round of tests, which he passes successfully.

That dynamic red-head, James Cagney, a great guy 'most any time, but especially at the State, beginning tomorrow, when he appears in "Great Guy," picturization of those who aid the public through weights and measures department, is featured with Mae Clarke. "Soldier and the Lady," thrilling, intriguing story of spies in Russia, is the second feature. "Ace Drummond," Chapter 3 is an added attraction.

CAGNEY OPENS IN STATE BILL

The beloved and dynamic red-head, James Cagney, absent from pictures for almost a year, comes back again, beginning tomorrow at the State, in "Great Guy," which combines action, drama, romance and subtle humor, in perfect proportion. Bringing to life on the speaking screen, the exciting adventures and desperate struggles of Jules Verne's immortal "Michael Strogoff," RKO Radio is said to have produced one of the most unusual films of modern times in "The Soldier and the Lady," second feature of the program.

"Ace Drummond," Chapter 3, is an added attraction. The Cagney story concerns the experiences of "Johnny Cave," former prize fighter, who has been appointed chief deputy of the Weights & Measures department, with a warning to keep his fists in his pockets and his head on his shoulders. How he sets out to protect the public by stamping out the short weight racket forms a story that is as thrilling and intriguing, as it is unusual.

A strong supporting cast includes Mary Gordon, Mae Clarke, Edward Brophy, Henry Kolker, Edward Gargan and others.

"The Soldier and the Lady" is the story of a woman spy, Tartar rebellion, sweet revenge and sweeter love. As a counterpoint to other gripping scenes, "The Soldier and the Lady" shows what has been ac-

FINAL PROGRAMS ON THREE SANTA ANA SCREENS TODAY

Three Santa Ana theaters will show feature programs for the last times tonight. The West Coast is the only theater here, changing programs today.

"A Family Affair," one that shocked a city, features one billing at Walker's today and stars Lionel Barrymore, one of the screen's greatest actors of all time. Eric Linden and Cecilia Parker are featured players. The picture is one of a rural drama with a huge engineering project in Idaho as the background. Spring Byington and Mickey Rooney are among the well-chosen cast.

"The King and the Chorus Girl," breezy comedy-drama, with Fernand Gravet and Joan Blondell is the second feature. "Cafe Metropole," a picture no fan should miss, and "Let Them Live," story of a doctor's fight for health of slum district residents in New York, screen for the last times at the Broadway. "Cafe Metropole," cleverly written story, deals with life in a Parisian cafe setting where the wealthy Charles Winninger and the "smoother," Adolphe Menjou, almost part as enemies. Loretta Young and Tyrone Power furnish the love interest while Gregory Ratoff and Helen Westley are outstanding comedians.

John Wayne and Louise Latimer feature in "California Straight Ahead," claimed as two of the greatest battle sequences ever recorded by the camera. Eric Blore, Elizabeth Allan, Margot Grahame, Akim Tamiroff, Fay Painter and Anton Walbrook turn in fine performances.

HUGH HERBERT AT BROADWAY

Hugh Herbert has the giddiest, goofiest part of his career in First National's comedy-romance, "That Man's Here Again," which, with Universal's "Wings Over Honolulu," features the Broadway bill which opens Wednesday for four days.

"That Man's Here Again," marks the American debut of Mary Maguire, 17-year-old Australian beauty. Tom Brown has the romantic lead. In a short feature, the Dionne are back in pictures again. When he completed "That Man's Here Again," Director Lou King hung up the 40-marker for the number of films he has guided since becoming a full-fledged director.

King is one of the youngest directors in the motion picture business. He is only 34 years old now and has been working in the film colony since he was 18.

"Wings Over Honolulu," story of the sky-ways, is possessed of a sweep and scope which would be difficult to achieve in a story laid against another background. H. C.

BIBLE CLASS TO MEET

BUENA PARK, May 29.—A meeting of the Friendship Bible class will be held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Vernon Criswell in La Mirada. A covered dish luncheon will precede the afternoon's business and program.

Luncheon hostesses will be Mrs. William Tatum, Mrs. Roland Upton, Mrs. Edith Porter, and Mrs. Charles Baumstark.

Johann Sebastian Bach's blindness was brought on by eye strain resulting from the time when, as a child, he worked for months by moonlight, secretly copying a music manuscript which had been denied him.

TAYLOR COMES AT WEST COAST

With perfect peace of mind, record of never having given a poor performance and a sizeable bank account, Edward Everett Horton, film and stage star, arrives Thursday at the West Coast theater in "Oh, Doctor!" Universal rib-tickler, along with those off-screen romancers, Robert Taylor and Barbara Stanwyck, starring in "This Is My Affair."

Victor McLaglen shares honors with Taylor and Miss Stanwyck. In "This Is My Affair," Darryl Zanuck, Twentieth Century-Fox production chief, obtains an unusual bit of realism in depicting a dangerously important episode in a nation's history.

When Zanuck discovered in Hollywood the once-famous vaudeville team of Charles O. Rice and Fred M. Cady, who had played for President William McKinley at the old Chase theater in Washington and who were present at the time of McKinley's assassination, he signed them for the picture.

The comedy team, now in its 40th year, plays in a cafe sequence in "This Is My Affair," using the same "Goo Goo Eyes" song and skit used in Washington at the turn of the century. They starred in practically every Weber and Fields minstrel show to go on the road.

Comedian Horton recently celebrated his 100th successful theatrical performance in completing "Oh, Doctor!" He rolled up a major portion of his impressive record during his stock company years.

In "Oh, Doctor!" Horton portrays a fellow who thinks he has every sickness in a patent medicine ad-man. He signs over his inheritance to a band of sharpers for $50,000 cash advance. But a beautiful young nurse crosses his path. A rival suitor rouses Horton's jealousy. Then things happen.

"The Foxy Pup," cartoon, and news complete the bill.

GEORGE BRENT LEADS COMEDY ROLES SUNDAY

Motion picture fans who attend the double-bill comedy and adventure program which opens tomorrow at the Broadway, must be prepared for a shock when "The Go Getter," Cosmopolitan comedy-drama, starring George Brent, is screened.

The opening episode of the film is a reproduction of the tragic crash of the United States dirigible, Macon, into the Pacific ocean a few years ago. Brent, member of the crew, escapes death but loses a leg and is forced into civilian life.

Harold Bell Wright's latest and greatest thrill-teaming story, of an easy-going easterner who make the wild west wilder by out-bluffing and out-douging the tough homies who menace his romance, is the second screen fare offering of the program. "It Happened Out West," is title of the picture, with Paul Kelly and Judith Allen in featured roles.

In keeping with all Harold Bell Wright fiction, the story is a strictly modern one of the new west, a virile, fast-moving plot of the type that has made the author pre-eminent among outdoor adventure writers.

In Brent's starring vehicle, "The Go Getter," as a civilian, he meets up with Peter B. Kyne's famous old fiction character, Cappy Ricks, played by Charles Winninger, and with Cappy's daughter, Margaret, played by the ethereal blonde star, Anita Louise. The picture deals with various tests which old Cappy puts Brent to, before consenting to a courtship. "The Hound and the Rabbit," cartoon in color, and latest news, complete the bill.

"MITOUT SOUND"

When a director wants to shoot a silent scene, with noise or music to be dubbed in later, he says, "We'll make this one an MOS." It's a term used since the early days of talkies, when a foreign director would order some of his scene "mitout sound."

All Comedy Bill Is State Offer

It's an all-comedy program at the State beginning Wednesday and it's a wow! With its up-to-date plot rocking with clever lines and situations, RKO Radio's newest offering is "Don't Tell the Wife," featuring Guy Kibbee, Una Merkel and Lynne Overman, and Lynne Overman comes right back in the second feature, with Roscoe Karns, to give you laugh-aches which will require no medical attention.

Lynne and Roscoe appear in "Murder Goes to College," brisk, light-hearted mystery comedy. Crack-voiced Lynne is the detective in the film. Karns a crack-pot newspaper man who helps him. They're murderer hunters. Marsha Hunt furnishes plenty of pulchritude and love interest.

In spite of the folderol in "Don't Tell the Wife," it presents a pitiless expose of bucketshop and stock racketeering methods, now springing up anew with return of better times.

Against this background, "Don't Tell the Wife" weaves an exciting and realistic tale, with plenty of surprises developing from its gussy and hilarious plot. An exceptionally fine cast includes Thurston Hall, William Demarest, Guinn Williams and Harry Tyler as the dexterous group of glit-edeck-crooks.

"Horse Tail," comedy, and "Hot Spell," cartoon, complete the bill.

MEMORIAL DAY

AGAIN we pause to remember and pay tribute to those whose feet may no longer keep time to war drums . . . to those who, in their heroic and often brilliant soldiering, had but one thought in their minds . . . that their children might never know war intimately . . . In setting aside this day of remembrance let us pledge ourselves to a renewal of ideals. Only so can the day have value . . . only so can we be worthy of these to whom we pay honor.

May our spirits march along with theirs....our hearts in time with their flag bearers....but with the cry of PEACE ON EARTH upon our lips.
